This programme is distinctive in its international business and culture aspects. At the same time it provides a good understanding of a range of key functional aspects of business which give students some exemptions from initial examinations by a number of professional bodies.

Transferable skills

In following this programme, students will have had the opportunity to enhance their skills relating to career management, communications (both written and oral), information handling, numeracy, problem-solving, team working and use of information technology.

Summary of teaching and assessment

Teaching is organised in modules. The delivery of material varies among modules, especially in the proportions of time allocated to lectures, and to classes and seminars. Most modules in Management involve coursework, which takes a variety of forms. Final assessment normally involves a written examination, and may also incorporate coursework marks; the maximum proportion of a final module mark allocated to coursework is 20%, other than in special cases. The Year Abroad module Scheine will be assessed on the basis of certificates gained at the German or Austrian university, and the Oral/Aural module will be examined at the beginning of Part 3.

Weighting: Part 2 and Year Abroad I-level modules will count for 33% of the final assessment, Year Abroad H-level modules and Part 3 modules will count for 67% of the final assessment.

Support for students and their learning

University supports for students and their learning falls into two categories. Learning support includes IT Services, which has several hundred computers and the University Library, which across its three sites holds over a million volumes, subscribes to around 4,000 current periodicals, has a range of electronic sources of information and houses the Student Access to Independent Learning (S@IL) computer-based teaching and learning facilities. There are language laboratory facilities both for those students studying on a language degree and for those taking modules offered by the Institution-wide Language Programme. Student guidance and welfare support is provided by Personal Tutors, the Careers Advisory Service, the University's Special Needs Advisor, Study Advisors, Hall Wardens and the Students' Union. The School of Management's Student Handbook and Guide issued to Part 1 and degree course students provides detailed information on the programme and on resources and study skills. The School has a resource room with reference books and computers for student use. In addition the Department of German Studies has a programme adviser for each part of the programme, and the departmental Course Handbooks issued to Part 1 and to degree course students provide extensive information on the programme, and on resources and study skills. The German Seminar Library contains a range of reference works which can be used by students and offers a congenial study space. During Part 2 a series of discussions, talks and academic courses is provided to prepare students for the Year Abroad.

Career prospects

In recent years students who have followed this programme have gone into jobs in the banking, finance, accounting and associated industries. These include large international management and marketing consultancies, international retailers and fashion houses, research in top rated universities in the USA, France and the UK, and professional positions in other service industries.

Graduates on this programme may apply for exemptions from relevant professional examinations of the Chartered Institute of Marketing, the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants and the Institute of Chartered Accountants. Students on this programme may become student members of the Institute of Management.

Opportunities for study abroad or for placements

Study Abroad.

Students go to one of our partner Business Schools in Germany. They must take the units and examination in these institutions as agreed by the Director of Management Studies and the German Departmental Coordinator. The assessment of student achievement in examination and coursework in the partner universities, whether by written or oral examination, is taken into account as one classifying unit.

All students also complete a dissertation and German language précis during the year abroad. Students who have shown marked ability on both the language and management elements of the course at the end of the second year of study may apply for the European Master of Business Science (EMBS) programme. This scheme enables students to gain a higher level qualification by completing a rigorous programme of study (and a dissertation) at one of the consortium universities.

Work Placement

Students may choose to seek a placement in a company in a German speaking country for the year abroad. If they are successful in finding a suitable placement which is authorised by the Director of Management Studies, students must work for a minimum of seven months full time. Assessment is based on a work placement report (about 4,000 words), a report by the employer, and an oral examination conducted jointly by the Management and German departments. Further details are available from the Director of Management Studies.
