

MSc International Accounting and Financial Management

For students entering in 2007

Awarding Institution	The University of Reading
Teaching Institution	The University of Reading
Programme Length:	12 months(9 months if dissertation is substituted by project and an additional optional module)
Date of specification:	August 2007
Programme Director:	Verna Care
Board of Studies	Management (Postgraduate)
Accreditation:	N/A

Summary of programme aims

The programme aims to provide a thorough postgraduate education in the specialist area of international accounting and finance. The compulsory modules provide a critical understanding of current theories and empirical research in the field of knowledge and students will develop a practical understanding of the application of this knowledge within an institutional framework. They will learn to evaluate alternative theories and methodologies and to make judgements on their applicability to complex issues where there is incomplete information.

Transferable skills

The programme requires a substantial amount of independent reading, research and study and students are expected to take personal responsibility and show initiative in developing their knowledge and understanding of the field of study. They will also need to enhance their skills in communications (both written and oral), information handling, numeracy, problem-solving, and the use of information technology. Students will work under pressure of time throughout the programme and will learn to set priorities and manage their time in order to meet strict deadlines. Career planning will be an integral part of the programme, both in the choice of programme and in its elective components.

Part-time/Modular arrangements

The programme may be studied part-time over two consecutive years by arrangement with the Director of Studies for MSc Programmes.

Progression requirements

Assessment of taught modules by May/June; re-sit failed modules in September; submit dissertation or internship report by Friday of the second week of September, or by a month thereafter if there are re-sits.

Students wishing to proceed to a higher degree by research should normally have obtained an average of at least 60% in the modules and at least 60% in the dissertation.

Summary of teaching and assessment

Teaching is organised in modules. The delivery of material varies among the modules, especially in the proportion of time allocated to lectures, classes and seminars. All modules involve coursework, which takes a variety of forms reflecting the aims of the module. Final assessment of the modules typically involves a 2 hour examination and coursework (weight varies according to modules). A dissertation supervisor is appointed for each student.

The University's taught postgraduate marks classification is as follows:

Mark	Interpretation
70-100%	Distinction
60-69%	Merit
50-59%	Good standard (Pass)
Failing categories:
40-49%	Work below threshold standard
0-39%	Unsatisfactory work

To pass the MSc students must gain an average mark of 50 or more overall. In addition, the total credit value of all modules marked at 40-49% must not exceed 40 credits and no module mark must fall below 40%. For the 12-month programme 50% or more in the dissertation is also required.

Students who gain an average mark of 70% or above, including a mark of 60% or more in the dissertation if applicable and no mark below 50% will be eligible for a Distinction. Those gaining a mark of 60%, including a mark of 50% or more in the dissertation (if applicable) may be eligible for a Merit pass.

A Postgraduate Diploma can be awarded to students who pass at least 120 credits of M level modules, of which at least 60 credits must be passed in compulsory modules.

Admission requirements

Entrants to this programme are normally required to have obtained a first degree equivalent to a British upper second class honours degree, which includes at least two modules in accounting. Applicants whose degree results are below the required level, or whose degree is from a university where the standard is not well known, will require GMAT 600. References are also taken into account. Acceptance is at the discretion of the Director of Studies.

Admissions Tutor:

The Programme Director is responsible for admissions.

Support for students and their learning

University support for students and their learning falls into two categories. Learning support includes IT Services, which has several hundred computers, and the University Library, which across its three sites holds over a million volumes, subscribes to around 4,000 current periodicals, has a range of electronic sources of information and houses the Student Access to Independent Learning (S@IL) computer-based teaching and learning facilities. There are language laboratory facilities both for those students studying on a language degree and for those taking modules offered by the Institution-wide Language Programme. Student guidance and welfare support is provided by Programme Directors, the Careers Advisory Service, the University's Special Needs Adviser, Study Advisers, Hall Wardens and the Students' Union.

Career Prospects

Most of the students come from outside the UK and many return to employment in the financial world in their home countries. UK students enter a variety of occupations, but over the years a number have moved into international finance or consultancy. A minority of students proceed to a PhD and enter academic/research or international organisations.

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

The presentation of well researched written work is a fundamental element of the programme and requires the application of all of the skills listed in 1-5. This is reinforced by the breadth and depth of the syllabuses for each module and the highly structured system of deadlines for assessed work, and examinations which develop the students' skills of time management. Oral skills are developed through lecture and seminar discussions.

Assessment

Unseen examination and coursework.

Please note - This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of each module can be found in the module description and in the programme handbook. The University reserves the right to modify this specification in unforeseen circumstances, or where the process of academic development and feedback from students, quality assurance processes or external sources, such as professional bodies, requires a change to be made. In such circumstances, a revised specification will be issued.
