Programme Director: Dr Evelyn Fenton

Board of Studies: Management MSc's

Accreditation: None

Total number of credits required: 180

Summary of programme aims

The programme aims to provide a thorough postgraduate education in the field of international management for students who do not necessarily have a first degree in business or management studies. The programme is distinctive in its international flavour, with strong emphasis on international business themes relevant for analysing the dynamic global business challenges of the 21st century. The compulsory modules provide a critical understanding of current theories and contemporary business practice. Students will develop a practical understanding of the application of theoretical concepts and they will learn to evaluate alternative theories and practices, and to make judgements on their applicability to complex and changing business situations.

Transferable skills

The programme requires a substantial amount of independent reading, research and study, and students are expected to take personal responsibility and show initiative in developing their knowledge and understanding of the field of study. In following this programme students will also have the opportunity to enhance and develop their skills relating to communication (oral and written), presentations, information handling, problem solving, team-working, and the use of information technology. Students will learn to work independently, under time pressures, and will learn to set priorities and manage their time in order to meet strict deadlines. Career planning, via choice of modules taken, will be an integral part of the programme.

Part-time/Modular arrangements

This programme is available on a part-time basis.

Summary of teaching and assessment

Teaching is organised in modules. The delivery of material varies among the modules, especially in the proportion of time allocated to lectures, classes and seminars. All modules involve coursework, which takes a variety of forms reflecting the aims of the module. Final assessment of the modules involves a 2 hour examination (weight 70%) and coursework (weight 30%).

The University's taught postgraduate marks classification is as follows:

Mark Interpretation

70-100% Distinction

60-69% Merit

50-59% Good Standard (Pass)

Failing categories

40-49% Work below threshold standard

0-39% Unsatisfactory Work

To pass the MSc students must gain an average mark of 50 or more overall. In addition, the total credit value of all modules marked at 40-49% must not exceed 40 credits and no module mark must fall below 40.

A Postgraduate Diploma can be awarded to students who pass at least 120 credits of M level modules, of which at least 60 credits must be passed in compulsory modules.

Admission requirements

Entrants to this programme are normally required to have obtained a first degree the equivalent of a British upper second class honours degree. Applicants whose degree result is below the required level, or whose degree is from a university where the standard is not likely to be well known to the admissions committee, will require GMAT 600. References are also taken into account. Acceptance is at the discretion of the Director of Studies.

Admissions Tutor:

The Programme Director is responsible for admissions.

Support for students and their learning

University support for students and their learning falls into two categories. Learning support includes IT Services, which has several hundred computers and the University Library, which across its three sites holds over a million volumes, subscribes to around 4,000 current periodicals, has a range of electronic sources of information and houses the Student Access to Independent Learning (S@IL) computer-based teaching and learning facilities. There are language laboratory facilities both for those students studying on a language degree and for those taking modules offered by the Institution-wide Language Programme. Student guidance and welfare support is provided by Programme Directors, Tutors, the Careers Advisory Service, the University's Special Needs Advisor, Study Advisors, Hall Wardens and the Students' Union.

Career prospects

Students who have followed this programme are working in a wide range of industries and management functions. Industries include finance, manufacturing, retailing, advertising, consultancy, Civil Service, teaching and research. Graduates from this programme have found employment in many different types of firms from multinationals to small and medium enterprises.

Opportunities for study abroad or for placements

Educational aims of the programme

The programme provides a thorough postgraduate training in international management. With an emphasis on theory and practice it aims to produce graduates capable of using their knowledge and understanding in a commercial context, and partaking in international business.

Programme Outcomes

Knowledge and Understanding

A. Knowledge and understanding of:

1. Alternative models of management and international business
2. Most recent developments in relevant empirical work, business and management practices, and the international business environment
3. The international and cultural environments, and regulatory and ethical framework affecting international business and management.
4. The structure and practices of selected international business enterprises. Management within these enterprises
5. An understanding of the importance of international business in driving change in management practices and business cultures throughout the world.

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

1-5

Formal lectures, guest lectures from industry, discussions, individual and group presentation, group exercises, case studies, guided readings and guidance on key sources of reference material. Feed back and guidance are important elements complementing an emphasis on self-study

Assessment

Unseen examinations and coursework comprising of long essays. Seminar presentations are also used as a means of assessment in some modules.

Skills and other attributes

B. Intellectual skills – able to:

1. Structure, analyse, and evaluate theoretical issues, and practical business dynamics and challenges.
2. Think logically and analytically and to understand the difference between positive and normative statements.
3. Identify key business and management relationships and evaluate them with reference to practice
4. Comprehend the rapidly evolving state of management and international business knowledge and factors influencing both the change and the pace of change

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Students are frequently challenged in all teaching situations to complete logical arguments, analyse problems and alternative strategies, and justify statements. Long essays, debate, group work, and presentations provide the principal vehicle for developing intellectual skills

Assessment

7. Understand career opportunities and begin to plan a career path.
8. Information management skills. e.g. IT skills.

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

The presentation of well-researched written work is a fundamental element of the programme and requires the application of all the skills listed in 1-5. This is reinforced by the breadth and depth of the syllabuses for each module and the highly structured system of deadlines for assessed work, and examinations, which develop the students' skills of time management. Oral skills are developed through lecture and seminar discussions and individual and group presentations.

Assessment

Unseen examinations and coursework.

Please note - This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of each module can be found in the module description and in the programme handbook. The University reserves the right to modify this specification in unforeseen circumstances, or where the process of academic development and feedback from students, quality assurance processes or external sources, such as professional bodies, requires a change to be made. In such circumstances, a revised specification will be issued.
