For members entering from 2009 onwards

Awarding Institution:	The University of Reading
Teaching Institution:	Henley Business School at the University of Reading
Faculty:	Henley Business School
Programme length:	36 months
Date of specification:	30 July 2009
Programme Director:	Chris Dalton
Board of Studies:	School of Management, Greenlands
Accreditation:	AACSB, AMBA, EQUIS

Summary of programme aims

The Henley MBA in Project Management programme aims to prepare programme members for senior leadership positions in Project-Based Organisations by:

1. Developing a strategic, holistic and integrated perspective of business, organisations and management.
2. Developing knowledge and understanding of current and pervasive issues in business, projects and management through access to thought leadership and leading edge practice.
3. Developing the knowledge, understanding and skills for management and leadership around three core themes:
  - Choices: that management and leadership is about making the right choices – both personal and organisational
  - Values: that character and integrity are as important as capability for managers and leaders
  - Critical thinking: that effective management and leadership require both innovative and critical thinking
4. Providing personal development opportunities to help programme members develop their management capabilities, their capacity for and commitment to continuous learning, and their capability to work in and to lead teams in different situations.
5. Integrating theory and practice through an approach to assessment that combines academic rigour with practitioner relevance through work-based assignments, examinations and a research-based management project.

Transferable skills

The Henley MBA in Project Management by Blended Learning is an intensive and international MBA programme.

- It is designed to help members develop their international management competencies. It enables them to improve their effectiveness and maximise their contribution to an organisation whilst also helping them to achieve their career potential.
- This international programme may also be conducted together with our partners outside the United Kingdom. Members on the programme are encouraged to think strategically about business and management in a global context.
- This is a highly participative programme, which combines personal learning and group work. It emphasises personal development but uses individual and team based assessment. It is delivered in a format that is based around a learning journey for participants which integrates aspects of personal development that focus on individual and collaborative learning.

The MBA in Project Management by Blended Learning is structured to allow participants to continue working in full-time employment while studying and to connect their learning to current global, international and organisational issues. Over three Stages of roughly one year each, there are opportunities to engage career stakeholders in managerial issues and in programme activities. Members will develop their own areas of interest and expertise in the content of the project management specific content and the Management Challenge project and will focus on integrating their learning into their own personal development.

Part-time study arrangements

Members are enrolled within intakes and are expected to use a blend of individual and group self-study methods online and face-to-face at workshops. Workshops at the start of each stage are compulsory. Each intake is built around a schedule of workshop dates, assignment due dates and examination dates. Within overall registration there is flexibility to complete assignments and exams at different rates. Additional support workshops may be made available during the three years. Members experience a total of 28 days contact time as shown at Appendix 1

Progression requirements

Programme members must pass each assessment in a module with a minimum pass mark of 50% (D-). Each module's assessment must be passed. It is expected that all the modules in each stage are completed prior to entry to the next stage of the MBA. However, Programme Members may progress at the discretion of the Programme Director. Progression is managed by Personal Tutors, Programme Managers and Administrators and, to an extent, by the encouragement of peer learning teams. All personal development assessment must be submitted in order to progress. A programme member may be withdrawn due to lack of progression which is at the discretion of the Programme Director.

One free re-sit is permitted for the first module, Dynamics of Management, then one further re-sit per stage and one re-sit is permitted for the elective assignments.

Members registered on the Postgraduate Diploma in Project Management may not proceed to Stage 3 without first completing all assessment at Stages 1 and 2.

The following form the options for assessment used in the MBA in Project Management by Blended Learning:

- Individual assignments for all core subjects, which may cover single subject areas or integrate two or more subject areas. Individual subject assignments are typically 5,000 words in length and integrated subject assignments may be longer. In the MBA in Project Management there are no elective choices. Programme members undertake most of the same core modules alongside the general MBA members. In each of the three Stages of the MBA, however, there is a compulsory module covering an aspect of managing the project-based organisation. In Stage 1 this is Project Management Foundations and Processes, in Stage 2 Commercial Project Management and in Stage 3, Implementing Strategy Through Projects. Assignments are based on member's own choice of organisation, predominantly the one they are working for.
- Two examinations are held, one in Stage 1 and one in Stage 2. Electives, Personal Development, GBE, Dynamics of Management and all Stage 3 subjects are not examined.
- A Management Challenge individual research project. The Manager as Investigator is not assessed as such but will lead to the development of a proposal for the Management Challenge
- Personal development – formative but required assessment involving personal development planning and review and reflection on learning at close of each of the three Stages. Personal Tutors provide development assistance and feedback

Summary of teaching and assessment

Assessment of behavioural skills will be achieved in conjunction with the summative and formative assessment of knowledge and understanding outcomes, and additionally through the personal development process that accompanies the academic learning journey. The assessment of personal development will be formative in nature and is a required submission.

The assessment of personal development will be formative in nature but will be a required aspect of assessment. Programme members will complete a personal development plan, a review and reflection on their learning at the end of each Stage. Personal Tutors will provide development assistance and feedback to programme members.

This MBA programme has an approach to teaching and learning that is appropriate to a particular mode of study, whilst reflecting the distinctive emphasis of Henley.

Methods typically associated with learning transmission:

- Lectures and presentations: face to face or online with digital support materials
- Self-study: directed and self-directed, online using web-based resources or with CD-ROM or paper-based materials

On the Blended Learning mode of study, methods associated with transactional or transformational approaches to learning include:

- Research
- Collaborative learning
- Co-operative learning
- Case studies
- Problem-based learning

Self-study, becoming more self-directed as the MBA in Project Management progresses, is the primary form encountered on the Blended Learning programme. This typically represents at least 50% of the total study hours. On-line learning resources extend the workshop interaction, providing resources that outline core theory and content or provide supplementary activities to embed learning. Text based resources will be interspersed with multi-media materials containing video and audio files that include tutor discussions of topics, lectures, case examples from companies. On-line resources will be made available at the start of a Stage. To get full value from face-to-face events, members are expected to familiarise themselves with the relevant study material before attending. In addition there will be further suggestions for directed and self-directed study after workshops and in the tutor-monitored discussions forums.

For Masters Degrees

To attain the MBA in Project Management members must gain a mark of at least 50% (D-) or more overall for each Stage and element within a Stage, and a combined exam result of at least 50% with no examined element below 40%.

Members may exit Stage 1 with a Post-graduate Certificate and Stage 2 with a Post-graduate Diploma.

Admission requirements

To qualify for entry to the programme, applicants must fulfil the core requirements outlined below:

- Hold a first degree from a British University or equivalent
- Have at least three years of management experience
- Applicants without a first degree from a British University or its equivalent may be accepted onto the Postgraduate Diploma programme subject to at least 3 years management experience, or may be accepted onto the MBA in Project Management programme subject to at least 10 years management experience

Under the category of equivalent qualifications are degrees from recognised international universities and a number of professional/vocational qualifications.

Management experience will be evidenced by at least three out of the following list of seven types of managerial activity (not in any order of priority):

1. Demonstrable involvement in shaping managerial decisions that affect events beyond standard daily operational activities.
2. Co-ordinating the work of others in a team.
3. Responsibility for meeting financial targets that rely on the efforts of more than one person.
4. A requirement to structure and order ones own work activities over a period of more than one month to solve problems and deliver results.
5. A defined responsibility for improving the performance of people, processes or technology.
6. A role that primarily achieves results through influencing others rather than through direct authority.
7. Experience of working internationally or of relevant multicultural exposure.

Candidates whose first language is not English must normally pass one of a number of prescribed English Language tests.

Applications from candidates who do not meet the normal entry qualifications go before an Admissions Panel. In such cases the Admissions Panel will consider all of the relevant evidence including the applicant's seniority, responsibilities, qualifications, career progression, references and overall quality of application.

Under the category of equivalent qualifications are degrees from recognised international universities and a number of professional/vocational qualifications.

The Admissions Tutor is the Programme Director, with active consultation where required from the Subject Area Leader for the MBA in Project Management.

Support for members and their learning

Henley Business School provides a range of support for programme members and their learning. The Academic Resource Centre is the School's on-site information resource, holding an extensive and carefully selected collection of print and electronic resources. It is complemented by the online Learning Resource Centre, which provides remote access to a wide range of items, including business and management databases, reading lists, the Academic Resource Centre catalogue, online dissertations and MBA resources. IT resources in the Library are enhanced by the IT resources across campus.

The HenleyConnect portal is the virtual learning environment supporting students studying on the Henley MBA programme. It is designed to allow programme members to work together and as individuals in a single online workspace and contains core MBA learning materials as well as links to materials within the Learning Resource Centre.

Pastoral care is provided from several sources but a key part is played by Personal Tutors. Each student is allocated a Personal Tutor, who has a number of roles including the provision of pastoral support to help them overcome any personal obstacles they encounter in the learning process, whether these are teaching or study concerns, or work-life balance issues. Personal Tutors also support the Personal Development element of the Henley MBA. In addition students are able, where necessary, to access some of the support services of the wider University, such as the Disability Office and the Study Advisors.

Career prospects

Henley Business School at its Greenlands campus offers an opt-in careers support service for self-funded candidates, as well as general access to events allowing networking between programme members and the corporate links at the business school.

Opportunities for study abroad or for placements

No opportunity for placement. Programme Members may attend the International Business Environment Electives which make an overseas visit.

Educational aims of the programme

The educational aims of the programme are related to the assessment of behavioural skills, along with the summative and formative assessment of knowledge and understanding outcomes, and additionally, through the personal development process that accompanies the academic learning journey. The specific programme outcomes are presented below.
