Summary of programme aims

The programme aims to provide students with subject-specific knowledge and more general skills, including knowledge of a variety of different kinds of literary texts, from a range of periods, as well as perspectives on different methods of creative and critical analysis. The course also aims to foster an independent approach to formulating problems and arguments, using the close reading and analytical skills that are fundamental to the discipline.

Transferable skills

During the course of their studies at Reading, all students will be expected to enhance their academic and personal transferable skills in line with the University's Strategy for Learning and Teaching. In following this programme, students will have had the opportunity to develop such skills, in particular relating to communication, interpersonal skills, learning skills, numeracy, self-management, use of IT and problem-solving and will have been encouraged to further develop and enhance the full set of skills through a variety of opportunities available outside their curriculum.

Students on this programme are also expected to have gained experience and show competence in the following transferable skills: fluency in writing and oral communication, the ability to formulate and evaluate their own arguments and those of others, to translate subject-specific knowledge and skills to new environments, the ability to find and use relevant information resources, to manage their time effectively, and to work co-operatively with others.

Programme content

Part 1 of the English Literature degree introduces students to debate about approaches to the study of literature, through critical and research exercises and close study of selected texts from a number of different periods. Part 2 provides greater breadth of coverage, and studies texts within historical periods and generic traditions. At Part 3 students have the opportunity of more specialized and independent literary study, choosing their modules from a wide range of options.

Each Part of the degree programme comprises 120 credits. In Part 1, students take 60 credits in English Literature, while the remaining 60 credits are made up from modules elsewhere in the University. In Parts 2 and 3 they must normally take a minimum of 100 English Literature credits in each year, and, in consultation with their programme adviser, may take up to 20 credits from modules available elsewhere in the University.

Part 1 (three terms)

Compulsory modules

Mod Code	Module Title	Credits	Level
EN1WKT	What Kind of Text is This?	20	4
EN1REE	Researching the English Essay	20	4
EN1LL	Languages of Literature	20	4

In addition students select ONE of the following:

EN1CW	Introduction to Creative Writing	20	4

Admission to optional modules is at the discretion of the Programme Director.

Part 2 (three terms)

Compulsory modules

Mod Code	Module Title	Credits	Level
EN2SOC1	Assessed credits from university abroad 1	20	5
EN2SOC2	Assessed credits from university abroad 2	20	5
EN2SOC3	Intercultural experience	20	5

Students choose three additional 20-credit modules from an approved list of options. At least one module must be taken from a list of pre-1800 modules. A complete list of options is available from the Programme Director and in the English Part 2 Module Supplement. Admission to optional modules will be at the discretion of the Programme Director.

With permission from the Programme Director, students may choose to replace one English Literature module with a module or modules totalling 20 credits from outside the programme.

Part 3 (three terms)

Compulsory modules

Mod Code	Module Title	Credits	Level
EN3DIS	Dissertation	40	6

In addition students choose four optional 20-credit modules, two in each term, to make a total of 80 credits. Optional modules: A complete list of options is available from the Programme Director and can also be found in the English Part 3 Module Supplement. Admission to optional modules will be at the discretion of the Programme Director.

Progression requirements

To proceed from Part 1 to Part 2, students must obtain:

- an overall average of 40% over 120 credits taken in Part 1, where all the credits are at C level or above;
- a mark of at least 40% in all English modules;
- a mark of at least 30% in individual modules amounting to not less than 100 credits taken in Part 1.

To proceed from Part 2 to Part 3, students must obtain

- an overall average of 40% over 120 credits taken in Part 2;
- a mark of at least 30% in individual modules amounting to not less than 100 credits taken in Part 2.

Assessment and classification

The University's honours classification scheme is:

Mark	interpretation
70% - 100%	First class
60% - 69%	Upper Second class
50% - 59%	Lower Second class
40% - 49%	Third class
35% - 39%	Below Honours Standard
0% - 34%	Fail

For the University-wide framework for classification, which includes details of the classification method, please see: <http://www.reading.ac.uk/Exams/classificationpost2007.pdf>.

The weighting of the Parts/Years in the calculation of the degree classification is

Three-year programmes

Part 2 one-third

Part 3 two-thirds

Teaching is through seminars, lectures and essay tutorials. In addition the Dissertation module is supported by workshops and individual supervision. Over the programme as a whole, assessment will be conducted through a mixture of assessed essays and formal examination. The conventions for classification are included in the Programme Handbook, but you should note that the weighting between Part 2 and Part 3 for classification purposes is 33% and 67%.

Admission requirements

Entrants to this programme are normally required to have obtained:

UCAS Tariff: 340-360 points including 120 in English Literature or English Language and Literature

Scottish or Irish Highers: ABBBB (A in English Literature)

International Baccalaureate: 32 points with 6 or 7 for Higher level English Literature

GCSE/O English Language preferred: grade C or above.

All applications are considered on their individual merits. Mature candidates will usually be expected to have a B (100 points) at A Level English Literature, or equivalent qualification. Consideration is also given to applicants with other qualifications and experience.

Admissions Tutor: Mrs Carolyn Lyle

Support for students and their learning

University support for students and their learning falls into two categories. Learning support is provided by a wide array of services across the University, including: the University Library, the Student Employment, Experience and Careers Centre (SEEC), In-session English Support Programme, the Study Advice and Mathematics Support Centre teams, IT Services and the Student Access to Independent Learning (S@il) computer-based teaching and learning facilities. There are language laboratory facilities both for those students studying on a language degree and for those taking modules offered by the Institution-wide Language Programme. Student guidance and welfare support is provided by Personal Tutors, School Senior Tutors, the Students' Union, the Medical Practice and advisers in the Student Services Centre. The Student Services Centre is housed in the Carrington Building and offers advice on accommodation, careers, disability, finance, and wellbeing. Students can get key information and guidance from the team of Helpdesk Advisers, or make an appointment with a specialist adviser; Student Services also offer drop-in sessions and runs workshops and seminars on a range of topics. For more information see www.reading.ac.uk/student

The Department of English Language & Literature also offers students specific help to improve and develop their essay writing skills through the Royal Literary Fund Fellowship scheme, which provides a resident professional writer whose role is to advise students individually, from first-year to postgraduate level, on raising the level of their academic writing.

Students in the Department of English Language & Literature receive a Handbook which gives details of the Programme, guidance on study skills such as note-taking and essay writing, and information about staff, facilities, and sources of specialized help within the University, such as the Study Advice Team and the Counselling Service. The English programme is designed to give students extensive teaching support in Part 1 leading to more independent work in Part 3. Academic feedback and guidance is given through one-to-one essay tutorials, and academic and personal support is provided through the tutor system and the University's Personal and Academic Record (PAR) Scheme. Dissertation workshops prepare students for the Part 3 dissertation which is individually supervised. The Geoffrey Matthews Collection, housed in the department, provides books, photocopied materials, cassettes and an extensive collection of videos for loan to students. A video-viewing suite is available within the Faculty. The Library is well stocked for students of English with printed materials as well as essential electronic databases on-line and on CD ROM, such as the OED, the MLA Bibliography, and JSTOR. Specialist subject librarians are available to give students advice and guidance to library resources.

Career prospects

In recent years students who have gained an English Literature degree from Reading have gone into a wide variety of jobs, including teaching, publishing, journalism, the media, management, administration, and public relations. An English degree provides graduates with a range of communication and analytical skills that will serve them in good stead in the marketplace. A number of graduates each year go on to further academic study and research.

During their time at Reading students have the opportunity to develop non-vocational skills, gain new work experiences, and further boost their employability through a diverse range of other placement opportunities. Careers Learning is embedded in compulsory modules throughout the programme. Students also have the opportunity to partake in an academic placement as part of the overall assessment of any Part 2 or Part 3 English Literature module, which encourages engagement with forward-thinking career planning.

The University's Careers Advisory Service (CAS) provides all Reading students with information about a wide range of placement opportunities (<http://www.reading.ac.uk/careers/placements>), including the Summer Enterprise Experience & Discovery internship scheme (<http://www.reading.ac.uk/careers/placements/seed/>), the Community Service Volunteering scheme (tutoring in local schools; <http://www.reading.ac.uk/studentrecruitment/StudentTutoring/sr-studenttutoringinschools.aspx>), the Student Associates Scheme (work experience in local schools; http://www.reading.ac.uk/internal/urop/urop_home.aspx), and the Undergraduate Research Opportunities Programme (UROP; http://www.reading.ac.uk/internal/urop/urop_home.aspx). The Department of English Language and Literature also has a Careers Tutor available to advise students in English Literature on researching and planning their career choices.

Opportunities for study abroad or for placements

Students have the opportunity to partake in an academic placement as part of the overall assessment of any Part 2 or Part 3 English Literature module, which encourages engagement with forward-thinking career planning. Students may, with permission, opt to spend the Autumn term during Part 2 abroad at one of the European universities with which Reading has an ERASMUS exchange agreement. They would actively participate in courses abroad, experience the teaching and learning processes of another institution, learn or improve their knowledge of a European language, and enhance their curriculum vitae. Students opting for the term abroad will take the equivalent of 60 English Literature credits at Intermediate level while abroad. These will count towards final degree classification.

Programme Outcomes

Knowledge and Understanding

A. Knowledge and understanding of:

1. Literary texts in English from selected periods between the Middle Ages and the present day
2. A range of kinds of texts including fiction, poetry and drama
3. Methods of critical textual analysis
4. Ways in which social, cultural and historical issues relate to texts
5. A range of approaches in English literary studies
6. Selected special fields of English Literature

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Knowledge and understanding are gained through formal teaching (lectures, seminar discussions, and individual essay feedback), prescribed and recommended reading, and the writing of essays and a dissertation. Certificate Level modules offer a broad introduction to 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. At Intermediate Level the understanding and skills acquired at Certificate Level are developed with particular emphasis on 1, 2 and 4 through seminars, lectures and individual feedback. Honours Level modules introduce more specialized study, particularly in relation to 3, 5 and 6, through a choice of seminar-based modules together with supervised, independent study leading to a dissertation.

Assessment

At Certificate and Intermediate Levels, knowledge and understanding of 1 - 5 are tested through a combination of essays and unseen written examinations. At Honours Level, assessment is through a mixture of methods, such as extended essays, essays plus unseen exams, and the dissertation
