Summary of programme aims

The programme aims to provide a through degree level education in Classical and Art Historical Studies. In Classics it aims to produce graduates who have experience of literary, thematic and genre-based approaches to the cultures of antiquity. The History of Art element gives students a broad perspective on Western art and architecture since the Middle Ages, as well the ability to acquire specialist knowledge of chosen periods. The programme will provide a basis for interpreting primary and secondary sources of evidence, and understanding methods of analysis, appreciate the changing nature of each discipline's priorities and approaches, and in History of Art it will promote a critical understanding of the relationship between contemporary conceptions of art and architecture and those of the past. All this will be achieved through structured progression from Parts 1 to 3.

Transferable skills

During the course of their studies at Reading, all students will be expected to enhance their academic and personal transferable skills. In following this programme, students will have had the opportunity to develop such skills, in particular relating to career management, communication (both written and oral), information handling, numeracy, problem-solving, team-working, and use of information technology and will have been encouraged to further develop and enhance the full set of skills through a variety of opportunities available outside their curriculum.

Programme content

Part-time degree programmes, like full-time programmes, are made up of study elements called modules. The size of a module is measured in terms of credits, a credit entails a notional 10 hours of study. For a full-time programme each year contains modules totalling 120 credits. Most modules are 20 credits in size but some are 10 credits and others are multiples of 20 credits (for example dissertations are often 40 credits in size). Modules are offered at one of three levels. In ascending order these are:

- Certificate (C) level 4
- Intermediate (I) level 5
- Honours (H) level 6

All part-time degree programmes entail study of modules totalling a minimum of 360 credits. Students must take the compulsory and optional modules required for their degree programme, the following minimum number of credits being required at the levels indicated:

- Certificate level 4 100 credits minimum
- Intermediate level 5 100 credits minimum
- Honours level 6 100 credits minimum

Part-time programmes are divided into two sections: Part 1 involves studying modules totalling at least 80 credits and no more than 120 level 4 credits (120 credits are equivalent to one year of full-time study), then passing the Part 1 Examination in order to proceed to the remainder of the degree. Post-Part I, where students take the remaining modules needed to complete their degree programme. Students must take at level 4 those modules required for progression to one or more degree subjects, but may take individual modules from any available programme to make up the necessary minimum total of 100 credits at level 4. Students must complete at least 80 credits at level 5 before they can proceed to study any level 6 modules. The content of this programme is: Part 1 introduces students to the disciplines; Part 2 develops skills through the study of broad, contrasting genres and periods, and Part 3 contains the detailed focus and specific research work. Not all optional modules will necessarily be available in any year. Admission to optional modules will be at the discretion of the Programme Director.

Part 1 (three terms)

Compulsory modules

CL1CA	The Civilisation of Fifth-Century Athens	20	4
CL1CB	Rome in the Augustan Age	20	4
HA1AB	History of Art and Architecture workshop	20	4

Optional module:

Optional modules:

A complete list of optional modules is available from the Programme Director, and a list of current options can be found in the BA Programme Handbook. Part 2 modules normally include options in classical Literature, History, Art, Culture and Reception. Students may also take cross-listed Museum Studies modules. Students may take IWLP Modern Greek in place of one level 5 module.

In the Department of History of Art and Architecture

Students will take one option module (20 credits) in addition to the two compulsory modules. A complete list of options is available from the BA Programme Coordinator, and a list of current options can be found in the BA Programme Handbook.

Part 3 (three terms)

Compulsory modules

Either	HA3DI	Dissertation (History of Art)	40	6
Or	CL3DP	Preparation for Dissertation in Classics	10	6
	CL3DN	Dissertation in Classics	30	6

Optional modules:

In the Department of Classics (40 credits) a complete list of optional modules is available from the Programme Director, and a list of current options can be found in the BA Programme Handbook. Part 3 modules normally include a range of cross-disciplinary options. Students may also take cross-listed Museum Studies modules. Students may take IWLP Modern Greek in place of one level 6 module.

In the Department of History of Art and Architecture: 40 credits. A complete list of options is available from the BA Programme Coordinator, and a list of current options can be found in the BA Programme Handbook.

Progression requirements

The structure of part-time degrees is that students first of all take the degree subject(s) they want to study at level 4. The subject(s) form Part 1 of the programme. Part 1 must contain at least 80 credits, so that, if the modules for a student's chosen subject (s) add up to less than 80 credits, an additional module or two will need to be taken to achieve that total. There is a Part 1 Examination in May or June, which students have to pass in order to go on to their degree choice at levels 5 and 6. To proceed from Part 1 students must have passed modules totalling at least 80 credits at level 4 and must also have passed those modules required for progression to their chosen degree, with a minimum mark of 40%. To pass the Part 1 Examination a student must have a minimum average of 40% in at least 80 credits and not less than 30% in any individual module. Students who do not qualify to proceed from Part 1 at the first attempt may re-sit the required modules in a re-examination held in September. Students must complete at least 80 credits at level 5 before they can proceed to any module at level 6. Re-examinations for 4, 5 and 6 level modules are held annually in September. Students who do not qualify for a degree will be entitled to the following qualification provided they have obtained the minimum number of credits indicated: Certificate of Higher Education 100 credits at level 4 and 20 credits at any level. Diploma of Higher Education 240 credits, with at least 100 credits at level 5 or above. The specific progression requirements for this programme are as follows:

To proceed from Part 1 to Part 2 students must:

1. Obtain at least 40% in the module CL1CA and at least 40 % in the module CL1CB;
2. Achieve an average of at least 40% over the two History of Art modules with no module mark below 30%;
3. Achieve an overall average of 40% in 120 credits taken in the examination;
4. Achieve not less than 30% in any module except that marks of less than 30% in a total of 20 credits may be condoned.

To proceed from Part 2 to Part 3 students must:

1. Achieve an overall average of 40% in 120 credits;
2. Achieve mark of at least 30% in individual modules amounting to not less than 100 credits taken in Part 2.

Assessment and classification

The University's honours classification scheme is:

Mark	interpretation
70% - 100%	First class
60% - 69%	Upper Second class
50% - 59%	Lower Second class
40% - 49%	Third class
35% - 39%	Below Honours Standard
0% - 34%	Fail

For the University-wide framework for classification, which includes details of the classification method, please see the Examinations Office website.

The weighting of the Parts/Years in the calculation of the degree classification is

Three-year programmes

Part 2 one-third

Part 3 two-thirds

Teaching is delivered by a mixture of lectures and seminars in Part 1 and at Level 5 and with a greater emphasis on seminars at Level 6. The dissertation at Level 6 comprises a piece of work based on supervised independent study. The conventions for classification are included in the Programme Handbook but you should note that weighting between Level 5 and Level 6 for classification purposes is 33% and 67%.

Admission requirements

No previous experience of Classical Studies or History of Art is required for admission. Entrants to this programme are normally required to have obtained:

Grade C or better in English, Maths, Science (subject(s) as appropriate) GCSE (or equivalent qualification); and achieved

A minimum UCAS Tariff score of:

320 points from 3 A2 levels or 340 points from 3 A2 levels and 1 A/S level.

GNVQ (Adv): B in A level plus distinction in GNVQ (Adv) - 12 modules of GNVQ (Adv) + pass 4 additional modules

Three Higher Level International Baccalaureate scores of :

(or an equivalent score in an equivalent qualification)

6,6,5

Scottish Highers: 280 points from 4 subjects including at least 1 Advanced Higher

Irish Leaving Certificate: BBBBB

All applicants are considered on their individual merits and the Department may vary these requirements if it sees fit.

Mature applicants. Applications from mature candidates are welcomed. A mature applicant is more likely to receive an offer of a place if he or she has undertaken recent study, for example two or more A levels or an Access course, but each case is assessed on its individual merits. We recommend that you contact an admissions tutor as soon as possible to discuss your individual circumstances.

International applicants. Applications from international candidates are welcomed. If you are not offering A levels we advise you to contact either the EU or the international admissions tutor before applying in order to discuss the acceptability of your qualifications. IELTS Band 7 (or equivalent) will be required for those whose education has not been undertaken in English.

Applicants wishing to make any inquiries should contact the Admissions Secretary or the Admissions Tutor. The current Admissions Secretary can be contacted by:

Support for students and their learning

University support for students and their learning falls into two categories. Learning support is provided by a wide array of services across the University, including: the University Library, the Careers, Placement and Experience Centre (CPEC), In-session English Support Programme, the Study Advice and Mathematics Support Centre teams, IT Services and the Student Access to Independent Learning (S@il) computer-based teaching and learning facilities. There are language laboratory facilities both for those students studying on a language degree and for those taking modules offered by the Institution-wide Language Programme. Student guidance and welfare support is provided by Personal Tutors, School Senior Tutors, the Students' Union, the Medical Practice and advisers in the Student Services Centre. The Student Services Centre is housed in the Carrington Building and offers advice on accommodation, careers, disability, finance, and wellbeing, academic issues (eg problems with module selection) and exam related queries. Students can get key information and guidance from the team of Helpdesk Advisers, or make an appointment with a specialist adviser; Student Services also offer drop-in sessions and runs workshops and seminars on a range of topics. For more information see www.reading.ac.uk/student Departmental Handbooks are provided to students in the first year. They are also available on the Internet. The Departmental Libraries contain a range of reference works which can be used by students and offer congenial study spaces. There is also full written feedback on essay work. Each module teacher gives personal guidance and feedback and sends termly reports on progress to Personal Tutors for discussion with students. The Department of History of Art has an extensive slide library (84,000 slides) and the Department of Classics is the curator of the Ure Museum of Greek Archaeology.

Career prospects

In recent years students who have gained degrees in Classical Studies and History of Art have gone into a wide variety of jobs, including teaching, publishing, journalism, the media, management, administration, and public relations. The visual skills developed in the degree make graduates attractive to the advertising industry. A number of graduates each year go on to further academic study and research.

Opportunities for study abroad or for placements

CL2PL is the placement module Work Placement for Classicists and Ancient Historians. It gives students the opportunity to gain experience in a graduate level employment position. Students find their own placements (that is part of the exercise), but they are guided and supported in this by the Department. Students are encouraged to study abroad for a term to a year (normally in Part 2) either within Europe via the ERASMUS programme or at one of the University of Reading's non-European partner institutions. They will require the consent of the departmental study abroad coordinator in order to participate. Full details of potential destinations can be found on both the departmental and Erasmus & Study Abroad websites. Application early in the preceding year (autumn term/very early spring term) is essential.

Programme Outcomes

The programme provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, qualities and other attributes in the following areas:

Knowledge and Understanding

A. Knowledge and understanding of:

1. the literature, thought, art and religion of antiquity
2. a diverse range of primary materials
3. a range of problems of interpretation and evaluation of primary materials
4. a range of techniques and methodologies the reception of Graeco-Roman culture in the West
5. a broad range of Western art and architecture from the Middle Ages to the present day;
6. specialist information about certain chosen periods of art history;
7. key issues and current priorities in art and architectural history including conflicting interpretations and specific methods of analysis germane to history of art and architecture;
8. the issues involved in interpreting visual artefacts, their function and meaning;
9. technical language of the subjects.

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Knowledge and understanding are gained through formal teaching (lectures, seminars, and individual essay feedback), recommended reading, and the writing of essays and a dissertation.

Assessment

Most knowledge is tested through a combination of coursework and formal examination. The Dissertation and an oral presentation also contribute.

Skills and other attributes

B. Intellectual skills - able to:

1. engage in analytical and evaluative thinking about texts, sources, arguments and interpretations, independently estimating their relevance to the issue in question, discriminating between opposing theories, and forming judgements on the basis of evidence and argument
2. negotiate both primary and secondary sources in classical and medieval studies, and demonstrate how they inter-relate
3. develop creative intelligence in independent research and interpretation.
4. analyse and interpret visual artefacts;
5. synthesise and integrate evidence from multiple and diverse sources, including visual resources, in order to articulate an argument effectively.
6. transfer appropriate skills and methods from one topic within the subject to another;
7. recognise and critically evaluate past and current theoretical approaches and competing interpretations;
8. think comparatively and cross-culturally;
9. think critically and independently;
10. gather, organise and deploy evidence and information, including visual sources, and show awareness of the consequences of the unavailability of evidence

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Skills will be introduced in lectures, developed through reading, writing of essays, dissertation and examination. Through specific focus on topics, issues and texts in seminars, workshops and personal study, students are enabled to develop critical modes of enquiry about the selection and treatment of material. Through essay and dissertation preparation, the research and analytical skills are reinforced which are necessary to form and to validate arguments and judgements. The Dissertation requires students to engage creatively and critically with primary sources and/or historical interpretative works.

Assessment

These skills are assessed in all Parts of the programme by a combination of coursework, essays, oral presentations, dissertation and unseen examinations. Examinations in History of Art also include compulsory questions analysing visual artefacts.

C. Practical skills - able to:

1. locate, extract and assemble data and information;
2. develop the capacity for critical judgement in the light of evidence and argument
3. select and apply appropriate methodologies in assessing the meaning and significance of evidence or data
4. use bibliographical and library research tools effectively
5. memorise and be able to recall key features of

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

These are developed through the deployment of seminar classes and essay assignments. Oral presentation also constitutes a percentage of the assessment of the dissertation

Assessment

These are assessed through coursework and different visual resources; 6. plan and carry out a primary research project, working independently

D. Transferable skills - able to:

1. deploy a range of IT resources effectively 2. present material orally in a clear and effective manner 3. present material in a written form, with discrimination and lucidity in the use of language, professional referencing, and clear layout 4. work creatively, flexibly and adaptably with others 5. write and think under pressure and to meet deadlines 6. deal effectively with a variety of visual material and numerical data; 7. evaluate evidence and use reasoned arguments 8. identify and devise strategies for solving problems; 9. work effectively in a team; 10. locate information and use a range of information technology effectively; 11. make informed career plans.

Please note - This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of each module can be found in the module description and in the programme handbook. The University reserves the right to modify this specification in unforeseen circumstances, or where the process of academic development and feedback from students, quality assurance process or external sources, such as professional bodies, requires a change to be made. In such circumstances, a revised specification will be issued.
