

MA in English Language Teaching by Distance Study For students entering in 2012/3

Awarding Institution:	University of Reading
Teaching Institution:	University of Reading
Relevant QAA subject Benchmarking group(s):
Faculty:	Arts, Humanities and Social Science Faculty
Programme length:	5 years
Date of specification:	29/Oct/2012
Programme Director:
Programme Advisor:
Board of Studies:
Accreditation:

Summary of programme aims

The MAELT programme is designed especially for those working in the field of English as a second / foreign language, and has courses in language description, and in pedagogy and administration-related fields with this audience in mind. Students are given an up-to-date knowledge of principles and issues in areas of importance to language learning and assessment, and investigate their practical implications. They receive a thorough grounding that will help them to develop their career as a teacher, trainer, researcher or manager.

Transferable skills

In addition to those skills which all students are expected to have developed by the end of their degree programme, it is envisaged that MAELT students will have developed or enhanced the following more specific transferable skills:

- studying independently, while making appropriate use of on-line communication resources;
- analysing and categorising - and hence evaluating - language at different levels;
- designing curricula and syllabi on the basis of data provided;
- synthesising, analysing and evaluating information and theoretical claims in specialist literature;
- producing well-structured and clearly-written academic and professional papers;
- designing and conducting a research project, including a clear statement of research aims, identifying and searching relevant bibliographical sources, conducting an empirical or library-based investigation, and analysing and interpreting results in relation to established theory and professional concerns (dissertation-track);
- using time efficiently while carrying out reading, research and related writing activities.

Programme content

The following profile states which modules must be taken (the compulsory part), together with lists of modules from which students must make a selection (the option modules).

The MAELT programme allows students some freedom to suit their own needs, but with a shared foundation of compulsory core modules. The latter combine with option modules which may be selected from a range of available subjects within the School. A special feature of the programme is that it has two tracks, with and without a dissertation (referred to respectively hereafter as the 'dissertation track' and the 'taught track'). In addition, there is a campus-based version of the programme, permitting a combination of distance and campus-based study. [A separate programme specification is available for the campus-based programme.]

The compulsory modules are divided into three areas: English language description, language teaching/learning, and (for dissertation track only) research in ELT.

The English language description modules and the language teaching and learning modules typically comprise the first year.

The research component consists of dissertation preparation (offered on-line once a year, usually in the Spring Term) and the dissertation, of 15,000 words, on a topic in the field of English Language Teaching. Research for, and the writing of, the dissertation typically take a year.

The option modules cover a wide range of pure and applied areas (with an emphasis on the latter) and, together with the dissertation, provide flexibility and the opportunity for specialisation in the greater part of the programme. Dissertation-track students typically spend a year on this stage of the programme; taught-track students spend two years.

The following profile states which modules must be taken (the compulsory part), together with lists of modules from which students must make a selection (the option modules). In consultation with their programme adviser, students must choose 3 option modules (each of 20 credits) if following the dissertation track, and 6 option modules (each of 20 credits) if following the taught track, to make a total of 180 credits when combined with the other programme modules and the dissertation (where relevant). The number of credits for each module is shown after its title.

Masters Level Credits Level

Compulsory modules

LSMDPH	Pedagogic Phonetics & Phonology	10	7
LSMDEG	English Grammar	10	7
LSMDDT	English in Context	10	7
LSMDSL	Second Language Learning Principles	20	7
LSMDLC	Language Curriculum Design	10	7

For Dissertation-track only

LSMDDI	Research Design and Dissertation (MAELT)	60	7
--------	--	----	---

Option modules

Students select three (dissertation-track) or six (taught-track) options from the following.

LSMDIN	Intercultural Communication	20	7
LSMDWL	Written Language (Reading & Writing)	20	7
LSMDSP	Spoken Language (Listening & Speaking)	20	7
LSMDYL	Teaching English to Young Learners	20	7
LSMDML	Management in ELT	20	7
LSMDVO	The Teaching and Learning of Vocabulary	20	7
LSMDES	English for Specific Purposes	20	7

Compulsory module assessment takes place twice a year, at the end of the period of study for each module.

Option module assignments can be submitted on 15 March and 15 September each year.

The dissertation will be submitted at a date to be agreed with the supervisor, a year after starting work on the dissertation.

Part-time or modular arrangements

The programme is only offered on a part-time basis, with a minimum time span of two years and a maximum of five. Most students will take three years. Students are expected to spend at least twelve hours a week in study for the programme.

The structure of typical progression through the programme is as follows:

Year 1: 5 compulsory taught modules;

Year 2: 3 option modules

Year 3: 3 option modules (taught-track) or 1 compulsory taught module (Research Design) and dissertation (Dissertation-track).

Progression requirements

From taught components to dissertation: to follow the dissertation track in distance mode, a students must meet the following requirements:

1. they must have access to the Internet;
2. they must have access to an appropriate library.

If they do not meet these requirements, students may still follow dissertation-track if they come to Reading for the Research Design module, to use the University libraries and consult supervisors.

Summary of Teaching and Assessment

Modules are taught by specially produced packs of materials, which typically consist of Module Materials, Module Readers and core textbooks. There is on-line contact with module and personal tutors and with other students via e-mail and a Virtual Learning Environment. The dissertation module additionally is supported by individual supervision. Most modules are assessed wholly by coursework, but two are assessed wholly by examination: details are given in the module descriptions.

The University's taught postgraduate marks classification is as follows:

Mark Interpretation

70 - 100% Distinction

60 - 69% Merit

50 - 59% Good standard (Pass)

Failing categories

40 - 49% Work below threshold standard

0 - 39% Unsatisfactory Work

For Masters Degrees

To pass the degree of Master, students must gain an average mark of 50 or more overall, including a mark of 50 or more for the dissertation in the case of dissertation track, and have no mark below 40 in compulsory modules LSMDPH, LSMDEG, LSMDDT, LSMDSL, and LSM DLC. In addition the total credit value of all modules marked below 40 must not exceed 30 credits and for all modules marked below 50 must be less than 60 credits. Students who gain an average mark of 70 or more overall including a mark of 60 or more for the dissertation in the case of dissertation track and have no mark below 40 will be eligible for a Distinction. Those gaining an average mark of 60 or more overall including a mark of 50 or more for the dissertation in the case of dissertation track and have no mark below 40 will be eligible for a Merit.

For Postgraduate Diplomas

To pass the Postgraduate Diploma students must gain an average mark of 50 or more and have no mark below 40 in compulsory modules LSMDPH, LSMDEG, LSMDDT, LSMDSL and LSM DLC. In addition the total credit value of all modules marked below 40 must not exceed 30 credits and for all modules marked below 50 must be less than 60 credits.

Students who gain an average mark of 70 or more and have no mark below 40 will be eligible for the award of a Distinction. Those gaining an average mark of 60 or more and have no mark below 40 will be eligible for a Merit.

For Postgraduate Certificates

To pass the Postgraduate Certificate students must gain an average mark of 50 on taught modules totally 60 credits and have no module mark below 40 in those modules.

Admission requirements

Entrants to this programme are normally required to have

- a good first degree, preferably in a language- or language/education-related subject;
- at least two years' full-time EFL/ESL teaching experience, gained after qualifying as a teacher.

Non-graduates may exceptionally be admitted to the programme if they have

- a diploma level teaching qualification, or its equivalent in in-service teaching qualifications;
- several years of teaching experience, with evidence of a high level of professional activity in areas such as conference attendance and presentations, the production of teaching materials and the writing of professional / academic papers.

All entrants to the programme will be required to meet the Faculty's English language proficiency standards. Where UK GCSE examinations in English (or their equivalent) have not been passed, these standards are normally represented by a minimum overall band of 7.0 on the IELTS test, with no sub-test band below 7.0, or an equivalent score on another standard test recognised by the University.

Admissions Tutor: Clare Furneaux

Support for students and their learning

University support for students and their learning falls into two categories. Learning support is provided by a wide array of services across the University, including: the University Library, the Student Employment, Experience and Careers Centre (SEEC), In-session English Support Programme, the Study Advice and Mathematics Support Centre teams, IT Services and the Student Access to Independent Learning (S@il) computer-based teaching and learning facilities. There are language laboratory facilities both for those students studying on a language degree and for those taking modules offered by the Institution-wide Language Programme. Student guidance and welfare support is provided by Personal Tutors, School Senior Tutors, the Students' Union, the Medical Practice and advisers in the Student Services Centre. The Student Services Centre is housed in the Carrington Building and offers advice on accommodation, careers, disability, finance, and wellbeing. Students can get key information and guidance from the team of Helpdesk Advisers, or make an appointment with a specialist adviser; Student Services also offer drop-in sessions and runs workshops and seminars on a range of topics. For more information see www.reading.ac.uk/student

Career prospects

Students graduating from this programme are equipped to take up senior teaching and administration posts within the field of English Language Teaching. They will also be equipped to take up positions in teacher training / education, curriculum planning, English language testing, and publishing.

Opportunities for study abroad or for placements

N/A

Programme Outcomes

Knowledge and Understanding

A. Knowledge and understanding of:

1. The production and description of the sound system of English.
2. The main features of the grammatical system of English as described in a modern descriptive reference grammar.
3. (Depending on Programme track) The systems underlying the production of appropriate, coherent and cohesive English discourse, and the ways of describing these.
4. Theories of L2 acquisition relating to learning in general, to interlanguage, and to environmental and individual factors.
5. Theories of curriculum design and their effect on programme development and teaching.
6. (Depending on programme track) Different types of research, requirements of effective research, techniques of data-gathering, basic descriptive and inferential statistical methods, requirements of academic dissertations / or reports in the field.
Depending on choice of options / Track:
7. Theory and pedagogical implications derived from within the broad areas of:
 - the four language skills,
 - language use and learning in specific domains or circumstances
 - language assessment
 - information technology and computer-based language corpora
 - inter-cultural communication
 - phonology

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

- Lectures
Seminars, with occasional student presentations
Tutorials for assignment guidance
- Assessment*
Mainly by assignments requiring essays of different lengths.
Dissertation (Dissertation Track only)
Language Teaching Portfolio (Portfolio Track only)

- English literature.
- child language development.

Skills and other attributes

B. Intellectual skills - able to:

1. develop a coherent and logical discussion or argument in speech or writing
2. analyse and solve problems
3. operationalise abstract concepts for testing of hypotheses
4. assimilate rapidly-evolving concepts and models of language and language learning
5. synthesise and evaluate information from different sources
6. generalise knowledge and methods from one area of study to others
7. apply theoretical concepts and research-based information to the handling of pedagogical problems and issues.
8. plan, carry out and present an extended independent investigation of a research topic

C. Practical skills - able to:

1. perceive the phonological features of spoken English and transcribe them using an IPA-based phonetic alphabet.
 2. analyse and describe written English sentences at the levels of clause, phrase and word.
 3. (Depending on Track): analyse and describe samples of discourse, using one or more descriptive frameworks.
- In addition, depending on modules / Track taken and / or research undertaken, students will be able to do some of the following:
4. design a syllabus for a group of language learners, on the basis of a needs analysis and assessment of resources and other contextual factors.
 5. evaluate materials used in the teaching of English language skills.
 6. design a language test for a specified group of test-takers.
 7. create, organise and analyse a computer-based language corpus.
 8. design and administer a language-oriented survey, involving a questionnaire or interview.
 9. carry out a statistical analysis of language or language-related data, using appropriate descriptive and/or inferential statistics
 10. develop and use an instrument for the evaluation of teaching during an observation.

D. Transferable skills - able to:

- able to:
1. use IT (word processing, using standard and statistical software)
 2. define a research topic and mount a principled

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Module materials: texts, tasks and commentaries.
On-line discussion with fellow students and staff.

Assessment

Mainly by assignments requiring essays of different lengths but also by examination in two cases.

Dissertation

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Module materials: texts, tasks and commentaries.
On-line discussion with fellow students and staff (optional).

Assessment

Practical sections in assignments and examinations
Relevant sections in the Dissertation

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Module materials: texts, tasks and commentaries.
On-line discussion with fellow students and staff (optional).

investigation by means of hypothesis-formulation and testing

3. give oral presentations
4. work as part of a team
5. use library resources
6. manage time
7. formulate and implement career plans

Assessment

Items 1, 5 and 6 are assessed under the organisation and presentation criteria for marking assignments and the dissertation.

Item 2 is assessed by research proposal and dissertation.

Item 4 is assessed in the work produced for an examination taken for one module.

Please note - This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of each module can be found in the module description and in the programme handbook. The University reserves the right to modify this specification in unforeseen circumstances, or where the process of academic development and feedback from students, quality assurance process or external sources, such as professional bodies, requires a change to be made. In such circumstances, a revised specification will be issued.