Board of Studies:	English

Summary of programme aims

The programme aims to provide students with subject-specific knowledge and more general skills, including knowledge of a variety of different kinds of literary texts, from a range of periods, as well as perspectives on different methods of critical analysis. The course also aims to foster an independent approach to formulating problems and arguments, using the close reading and analytical skills that are fundamental to the discipline.

Transferable skills

During the course of their studies at Reading, all students will be expected to enhance their academic and personal transferable skills. In following this programme, students will have had the opportunity to develop such skills, in particular relating to communication, interpersonal skills, learning skills, numeracy, self-management, use of IT and problem-solving and will have been encouraged to further develop and enhance the full set of skills through a variety of opportunities available outside their curriculum.

Students on this programme are also expected to have gained experience and show competence in the following transferable skills: fluency in writing and oral communication, the ability to formulate and evaluate their own arguments and those of others, to translate subject-specific knowledge and skills to new environments, the ability to find and use relevant information resources, to manage their time effectively, and to work co-operatively with others.

Programme content

Part-time degree programmes, like full-time programmes, are made up of study elements called modules. The size of a module is measured in terms of credits; a credit entails a notional 10 hours of study. Most modules are 20 credits in size but the dissertation is 40 credits. Modules are offered at one of three levels. In ascending order these are: Certificate (4) level; Intermediate (5) level; Honours (6) level.

All part-time degree programmes entail study of modules totalling a minimum of 360 credits. Students must take the compulsory and optional modules required for their degree programme, the following minimum number of credits being required at the levels indicated:

Certificate (4) level: 100 credits minimum

Intermediate (5) level: 100 credits minimum

Honours (6) level: 100 credits minimum

Part-time degree programmes are divided into two sections:

Part 1 involves studying at least 80 and no more than 120 credits at level 4 (120 credits are equivalent to one year of full-time study); then passing the Part 1 examination in order to proceed to the remainder of the degree. Post Part 1, where students taking the remaining modules needed to complete their degree programme.

Students must take at level 4 those modules required for progression to one or more degree subjects. Students take 60 credits in English Literature and the remaining credits from modules taken from any available programme to make up the necessary minimum of 100 credits at level 4.

Students must complete at least 80 credits at level 5 before they can proceed to study any level 6 module.

Part 1 of the English Literature degree introduces students to debate about approaches to the study of literature, through close study of selected texts from a number of different periods. Part 2 provides greater breadth of coverage, and studies texts within historical periods and generic traditions. At Part 3 students have the opportunity of more specialized and independent literary study, choosing their modules from a wide range of options.

In Parts 2 and 3 students may take up to 20 credits from modules available elsewhere in the University.

Part 1 (three terms)

Compulsory modules

Level 4 60 credits in English Literature

Students take the following compulsory modules in English Literature and make up their remaining credits from modules elsewhere in the university.

Compulsory modules

EN1LL	Languages of Literature	20	4
EN1REE	Researching the English Essay	20	4
EN1WKT	What Kind of Text is This?	20	4

Part 2 (three terms)

Compulsory modules

Students choose five or six 20-credit modules from an approved list of options. At least two modules must be from a list of pre-1800 modules. A complete list of options is available from the Programme Director and in the English Part 2 Module Supplement. Admission to optional modules will be at the discretion of the Programme Director.

With permission from the Programme Director, students may choose to replace one English Literature module with a module or modules totalling 20 credits from outside the programme.

Part 3 (three terms)

Compulsory modules

Level 6

EN3DIS	Dissertation	40	6

In addition, students choose three or four optional 20-credit modules from an approved list. A complete list of options is available from the Programme Director and in the Part 3 Module Supplement. Admission to optional modules will be at the discretion of the Programme Director.

Progression requirements

Part 1 must contain at least 80 credits, so in addition to 60 credits in English Literature a student must take at least 20 credits from modules elsewhere in the university. There is a Part 1 examination in May or June which students have to pass in order to go on to their degree choice at I and H levels. To progress from Part 1 to Part 2 students must have passed modules totalling at least 80 credits at 4 level and must also have passed those modules required for progression to the Single Honours English Literature degree.

Students who do not qualify to progress from Part 1 at the first attempt may re-sit the required modules. Re-examination for 4, 5 and 6 level modules are held annually in September.

Students must complete at least 80 credits at level 5 before they can take any module at level 6.

Students who do not qualify for a degree will be entitled to the following qualification provided they have obtained the minimum number of credits indicated:

Certificate of Higher Education: 100 credits at 4 and 20 credits at any level

Diploma of Higher Education: 240 credits with at least 100 credits at 5 level or above

To proceed from Part 1 to Part 2 of the Single Honours English Literature degree, students must obtain (i) an overall average of 40% across at least 80 credits taken in Part 1; (ii) a mark of at least 40% in all three English modules; (iii) a mark of at least 30% in individual modules amounting to not less than 100 credits taken in Part 1.

To gain a threshold performance at Part 2, a student shall normally be required to achieve:

- (i) a weighted average of 40% over 120 credits taken at Part 2;
- (ii) marks of at least 40% in individual modules amounting to not less than 80 credits; and
- (iii) marks of at least 30% in individual modules amounting to not less than 120 credits.

In order to progress from Part 2 to Part 3, a student must achieve a threshold performance

To proceed from Part 2 to Part 3, students must obtain (i) an overall average of 40% over across at least 120 credits taken in Part 2; (ii) a mark of at least 30% in individual modules amounting to not less than 100 credits taken in Part 2.

Assessment and classification

The University's honours classification scheme is:

Mark	Interpretation
70% - 100%	First class
60% - 69%	Upper Second class
50% - 59%	Lower Second class
40% - 49%	Third class
35% - 39%	Below Honours Standard
0% - 34%	Fail

For the University-wide framework for classification, which includes details of the classification method, please see: <http://www.reading.ac.uk/internal/exams/Policies/exa-class.aspx>.

The weighting of the Parts/Years in the calculation of the degree classification is

Three-year programmes

Part 2 one-third

Part 3 two-thirds

Teaching is through seminars, lectures and essay tutorials. In addition the Dissertation module is supported by workshops and individual supervision. Over the programme as a whole, assessment will be conducted through a mixture of assessed essays and formal examination. The conventions for classification are included in the Programme Handbook, but you should note that the weighting between Part 2 and Part 3 for classification purposes is 33% and 67%.

Admission requirements

All applications are considered on their individual merits. Mature candidates will usually be expected to have a B (100 points) at A Level English Literature, or equivalent qualification. Consideration is also given to applicants with other qualifications and experience.

Admissions Tutor: Dr Andrew Mangham

Support for students and their learning

University support for students and their learning falls into two categories. Learning support is provided by a wide array of services across the University, including: the University Library, the Careers, Placement and Experience Centre (CPEC), In-session English Support Programme, the Study Advice and Mathematics Support Centre teams, IT Services and the Student Access to Independent Learning (S@il) computer-based teaching and learning facilities. There are language laboratory facilities both for those students studying on a language degree and for those taking modules offered by the Institution-wide Language Programme. Student guidance and welfare support is provided by Personal Tutors, School Senior Tutors, the Students' Union, the Medical Practice and advisers in the Student Services Centre. The Student Services Centre is housed in the Carrington Building and offers advice on accommodation, careers, disability, finance, and wellbeing, academic issues (eg problems with module selection) and exam related queries. Students can get key information and guidance from the team of Helpdesk Advisers, or make an appointment with a specialist adviser; Student Services also offer drop-in sessions and runs workshops and seminars on a range of topics. For more information see www.reading.ac.uk/student

The Department of English Language & Literature also offers students specific help to improve and develop their essay writing skills through the Royal Literary Fund Fellowship scheme, which provides a resident professional writer whose role is to advise students individually, from first-year to postgraduate level, on raising the level of their academic writing.

Students in the Department of English Language & Literature receive a Handbook which gives details of the Programme, guidance on study skills such as note-taking and essay writing, and information about staff, facilities, and sources of specialized help within the University, such as the Study Advice Team and the Counselling Service. The English programme is designed to give students extensive teaching support in Part 1 leading to more independent work in Part 3. Academic feedback and guidance is given through one-to-one essay tutorials, and academic and personal support is provided through the tutor system and the University's Personal and Academic Record (PAR) Scheme. Dissertation workshops prepare students for the Part 3 dissertation which is individually supervised. The Geoffrey Matthews Collection, housed in the department, provides books, photocopied materials, cassettes and an extensive collection of videos for loan to students. A video-viewing suite is available within the Faculty. The Library is well stocked for students of English with printed materials as well as essential electronic databases on-line and on CD ROM, such as the OED, the MLA Bibliography, and JSTOR. Specialist subject librarians are available to give students advice and guidance to library resources.

Career prospects

In recent years students who have gained an English Literature degree from Reading have gone into a wide variety of jobs, including teaching, publishing, journalism, the media, management, administration, and public relations. An English Literature degree provides graduates with a range of communication and analytical skills that will serve them in good stead in the marketplace. A number of graduates each year go on to further academic study and research.

During their time at Reading students have the opportunity to develop non-vocational skills, gain new work experiences, and further boost their employability through a diverse range of other placement opportunities.

Careers Learning is embedded in compulsory modules throughout the programme. Students also have the opportunity to partake in an academic placement as part of the overall assessment of any Part 2 or Part 3 English Literature module, which encourages engagement with forward-thinking career planning.

The University's Student Employment, Experience and Careers Centre (SEECC) provides all Reading students with information about a wide range of placement opportunities (<http://www.reading.ac.uk/careers/placements/>), including the Summer Enterprise Experience & Discovery internship scheme

(<http://www.reading.ac.uk/careers/placements/seed/>), the Community Service Volunteering scheme (tutoring in local schools; <http://www.reading.ac.uk/studentrecruitment/StudentTutoring/sr-studenttutoringinschools.aspx>), the Student Associates Scheme (work experience in local schools;

http://www.reading.ac.uk/internal/urop/urop\_home.aspx), and the Undergraduate Research Opportunities Programme (UROP; http://www.reading.ac.uk/internal/urop/urop\_home.aspx). The Department of English Language and Literature also has a Careers Tutor available to advise students in English Literature on researching and planning their career choices.

Opportunities for study abroad or for placements

Students have the opportunity to partake in an academic placement as part of the overall assessment of any Part 2 or Part 3 English Literature module, which encourages engagement with forward-thinking career planning.
