

MBA (full-time)
For students entering in 2017/8

Awarding Institution:	University of Reading
Teaching Institution:	University of Reading
Relevant QAA subject Benchmarking group(s):
Faculty:	Henley Business School at Univ of Reading
Programme length:	12 months
Date of specification:	19/Sep/2017
Programme Director:
Programme Advisor:
Board of Studies:	Post-Experience Postgraduate Programmes
Accreditation:	AACSB, AMBA, EQUIS

Summary of programme aims

The Henley Full-Time MBA programme aims to prepare students for leadership positions by:

1. Developing a strategic, holistic and integrated perspective of business, organisations and management.
2. Developing knowledge and understanding of current and pervasive issues in business and management through access to thought leadership and leading edge practice.
3. Developing the knowledge, understanding and skills for management and leadership around three core themes:
 - Choices: management and leadership are about making the right choices - both personal and organisational
 - Values: character and integrity are as important as capability for managers and leaders
 - Critical thinking: both innovative and critical thinking are required for effective management and leadership
4. Providing personal development opportunities to help student develop their management capabilities, their capability to work in and to lead teams in different situations, and their capacity for and commitment to continuous learning
5. Integrating theory and practice through an approach to assessment that combines academic rigour with practitioner relevance through work-based assignments, examinations and a research-based business project or dissertation.

Transferable skills

The Henley Full-time MBA is an intensive and international MBA programme.

- To conduct rigorous and relevant research into business and management issues.
- To develop skills in creative and critical thinking including analytical thinking, the ability to synthesise information and the ability to analyse quantitative and qualitative data.
- To develop skills in managerial communication including listening, influencing others and in using oral and written communication in a wide range of contexts and using a range of media.
- To work collaboratively and effectively in a group both as team leader and team member.
- To demonstrate self-awareness as an independent, reflective and self-critical learner in a wide range of learning contexts and to be able to apply learning to new situations.
- To develop capabilities to integrate knowledge and information across different internal and external business contexts.
- It is designed to help students develop their international management competencies. It enables them to improve their effectiveness and maximise their contribution to an organisation whilst also helping them to achieve their career potential.
- Students on the programme are encouraged to think strategically about business and management in a global context.

Programme content

Compulsory Modules

MWM021	Managing People	15	7
MWM002	Operations Management	15	7
MWM003	Financial Management	20	7
MWM004	Marketing Management	15	7
MWM005	Management in an International Context	15	7
MWM006	Strategy	15	7

MWM007	Leadership and Change Management	10	7
MWM008	Reputation and Responsibility	10	7
MWM010	Personal Development	-	7
MWM023	Research skills for managers	5	7
Either
MWM015	Dissertation	40	7
Or
MWM014	Business Project	20	7

Modules comprise of core modules which address the fundamental topics within the subject area whilst the optional modules provide opportunity for students to engage in deeper study of specific topics.

There is one compulsory international study visit embedded into the Reputation and Responsibility module in which students can engage with global and international managerial issues and stakeholders via programme activities undertaken overseas.

Optional Modules

A complete list of optional modules is available from the Programme Administrator.

Students must choose optional modules to bring the total credit value to 180. There is no guarantee that in any one year all modules will be available if there is not a minimum of 8 students per module. New optional modules may also be added.

Part-time or modular arrangements

Not applicable to this programme as it is a full-time study option (only).

Progression requirements

Students must pass each module with a minimum mark of 50%. All modules are regarded as being of special significance. It is normally expected that all the modules in each stage are completed prior to entry to the next stage of the MBA. Progression is managed by the Programme Area Manager and Administrators and by the encouragement of personal tutors and peer learning teams. All Personal Development assessments must be passed in order to progress. A student may be withdrawn due to lack of progression, which is at the discretion of the Programme Director.

Students who fail to achieve an overall 50% pass mark in a module are permitted one re-sit/resubmission per module at an appropriate point in the schedule. Requests for extensions will be based on provision of evidence for extenuating circumstances.

Exam re-sits take place in April and August/September. Re-sits or re-submissions will be capped at 50% at module level. Students who fail to achieve an overall 50% pass mark on a module that is assessed via multiple modes of assessment will be re-assessed by a single mode of assessment, usually of the failed element. The dissertation or business project should be submitted by early September or by a month thereafter if there are re-sits.

If a student fails an assessment twice, this is deemed as a course failure.

To be eligible for the award of MBA students must:

- pass each module with a minimum mark of at least 50%
- pass all the required Personal Development plans

If a student fails to meet the criteria for the award of a Master's degree or is unable to complete the programme he or she is registered for, the student will be eligible for the award of one of the following as an exit qualification:

Postgraduate Certificate; this will be awarded to students who have previously registered for the Master's degree provided that the student has achieved a minimum of 60 credits at level 7.

Postgraduate Diploma; this will be awarded to students who have previously registered for the Master's degree provided that the student has achieved a minimum of 120 credits at level 7.

Summary of Teaching and Assessment

Teaching is organised in modules. The method of delivery varies among modules, especially in terms of the proportions of time allocated to lectures, group activities and assessment. All modules are assessed by coursework (that can take a variety of forms) and/or examinations.

The assessment of personal development will be formative in nature and is a required submission. Students will complete a personal development plan and will complete a review and reflection on their learning at the end of each Stage.

This MBA programme has an approach to teaching and learning that is appropriate to a particular mode of study, whilst reflecting the distinctive emphasis of Henley.

Methods typically associated with learning transmission:

- Lectures and presentations: face to face or online with digital supporting materials
- Self-study: directed and self-directed, online using web-based resources or with electronic or paper-based materials

Methods associated with transactional or transformational approaches to learning:

- Research
- Collaborative learning
- Case studies
- Problem-based learning
- Study visit
- Placements and consultancy assignments
- Simulation

The intense, regular teaching programme is the backbone of the learning process for the Henley Full-time MBA. On-line learning resources extend the classroom interaction, providing resources that outline core theory and content or provide supplementary activities to embed learning. Text-based resources will be interspersed with multi-media materials containing video and audio files that include tutor discussions of topics, lectures and case examples from companies. To get full value from face-to-face events, participants are expected to familiarise themselves with the relevant material before attending. In addition there will be further suggestions for directed and self-directed study after workshops.

Assessment and Classification

The University's taught postgraduate marks classification is as follows: Mark Interpretation

70 - 100% Distinction

60 - 69% Merit

50 - 59% Good standard (Pass) Failing categories:

40 - 49% Work below threshold standard 0 - 39% Unsatisfactory Work

For Masters Degrees (180 credits)

To pass the MBA students must pass each module with a minimum mark of 50%.

To qualify for a Distinction, students must gain an overall average of 70% or more over 175 credits*.

To qualify for a Merit, students must gain an overall average of 60% or more over 175 credits*. To qualify for a Pass, students must gain an overall average of 50% or more over 175 credits*.

* Where it has been agreed at validation that a programme includes a module assessable on a PASS/FAIL basis, the calculation shall exclude such modules and as such the Full-time MBA is calculated over 175 credits.

For PG Diplomas (120 credits)

To pass the Postgraduate Diploma students must pass each module with credits totalling 120 credits with a minimum mark of 50%.

To qualify for a Distinction, students must gain an overall average of 70% or more over 120 credits.

To qualify for a Merit, students must gain an overall average of 60% or more over 120 credits.

To qualify for a Pass, students must gain an overall average of 50% or more over 120 credits.

For PG Certificates (60 credits)

To pass the Postgraduate Certificate students must pass each module with credits totalling 60 credits with a minimum mark of 50%.

To qualify for a Postgraduate Certificate, students must gain an overall average of 50% or more over 60 credits.

Admission requirements

To qualify for entry to the Henley Full-time MBA, applicants must fulfil the core requirements outlined below:

- A minimum of three years relevant post-graduate level full-time work experience
- A good first degree or equivalent professional or international qualification
- Evidence of competence in English - if English is not your first language we require IELTS (overall 7.0). Candidates who have an IELTS score of 6.5 must complete the pre-session programme (6 weeks).

Under the category of equivalent qualifications are degrees from recognised international universities and a number of professional/vocational qualifications.

No exemptions are permitted on the Full-time MBA.

Admissions Tutor: The Programme Director

Support for students and their learning

University support for students and their learning falls into two categories. Learning support is provided by a wide array of services across the University, including: the University Library, In-sessional English Support Programme, the Study Advice and Mathematics Support teams and IT Services. There are language laboratory facilities both for those students studying on a language degree and for those taking modules offered by the Institution-wide Language Programme. Student guidance and welfare support is provided by Personal Tutors, School Senior Tutors, the Students' Union, the Medical Practice and the Support Centres. If a student has a general enquiry and is unsure where to seek help, they should visit their Support Centre. There are five Support Centres across the University, including one based at the London Road Campus. The Support Centre will be able to advise on matters such as extenuating circumstances, module selection, suspensions, withdrawals, timetable queries and transferring programme. The Support Centre will also be able to signpost students to Carrington building where other University services related to disability, financial support, counselling and wellbeing, accommodation and careers can be found. More information on what student services are available can be found here: <http://student.reading.ac.uk/essentials>.

University support for students and their learning falls into two categories. Learning support is provided by a wide array of services across the University, including: the University Library, the Careers, Placement and Experience Centre (CPEC), In-sessional English Support Programme, the Study Advice and Mathematics Support Centre teams, IT Services and the Student Access to Independent Learning (S@il) computer-based teaching and learning facilities. There are language laboratory facilities for those taking modules offered by the Institution-wide Language Programme. Student guidance and welfare support is provided by Personal Tutors, School Senior Tutors, the Students' Union, the Medical Practice and advisers in the Student Services Centre. The Student Services Centre is housed in the Carrington Building and offers advice on accommodation, careers, disability, finance, and wellbeing, academic issues (eg problems with module selection) and exam related queries. Students can get key information and guidance from the team of Helpdesk Advisers, or make an appointment with a specialist adviser; Student Services also offer drop-in sessions and runs workshops and seminars on a range of topics. For more information see www.reading.ac.uk/student

The Blackboard portal is the virtual learning environment and supports students studying on the Henley MBA programme. It is designed to allow students to work both together and as individuals in a single online workspace, and contains MBA learning materials as well as links to materials within the ARC Online.

Career prospects

Students have access to the central University services in terms of careers guidance and careers expertise within Henley Business School. Networking between students, the corporate links at the business school and with Henley Alumni are supported.

Opportunities for study abroad or for placements

At the end of stage 3 students attend a week-long study visit to an overseas location, where Henley has a developed network and strong footprint. Students also have a choice between completing a dissertation or carrying out an applied business project. Students who opt for the project will work in conjunction with a company and will be required to take an additional elective in stage two.

Programme Outcomes

Knowledge and Understanding

A. Knowledge and understanding of:

A. Knowledge and understanding of:

1. The impact of contextual forces on organisations including the historical development and purpose of organisations; legal systems; ethical, economic, environmental, social and technological change issues; international developments; corporate governance.

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Methods typically associated with learning transmission:

- Lectures and presentations: face to face or online with digital support materials
- Self-study: directed and self-directed, online using web-based resources or with CD-ROM or paper-based materials

2. The role of the manager in organisations; leadership roles and styles; leading and implementing major change; key dilemmas and choices of management and ethical leadership, including the management and development of people and HRM

3. The concepts and processes in core business areas including:

- the production and marketing of goods and/or services
- the management of resources and operations including the use of information systems
- the financing of the business
- enterprise or other forms of organisations
- sources, uses and management of finance
- use of accounting for managerial and financial reporting applications;
- corporate finance
- the financial implications of strategic decisions, and their impact on corporate governance

4. The principles and applications of a range of research methods/techniques, both qualitative and quantitative, and an understanding of their strengths and limitations for providing information and evaluating options in an uncertain organisational environment.

Methods associated with transactional or transformational approaches to learning:

- Research
- Collaborative learning
- Case studies
- Problem-based learning
- Study visits
- Placements and consultancy assignments
- Simulation

Assessment

Coursework, such as assignments, projects, group projects; written unseen examinations, seminar presentations: to provide knowledge of methods and principles used in business literature and cases and to promote the ability to appraise it critically.

Skills and other attributes

B. Intellectual skills - able to:

To be able to:

1. Numeracy and business research skills: including the use of models of business situations and ability to conduct research into business and management issues with the minimum of guidance.
2. Analytical and critical thought: with critical awareness can undertake analysis of complex, incomplete or contradictory areas of knowledge communicating the outcome effectively
3. Synthesis: with critical awareness can synthesise information in a manner that may be innovative, utilising knowledge or processes from the forefront of the discipline of management

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Methods typically associated with learning transmission: Lectures and presentations: face to face or online with digital support materials Self-study: directed and self-directed, online using web-based resources or with CD-ROM or paper-based materials. Methods associated with transactional or transformational approaches to learning:

- Research
- Collaborative learning
- Case studies
- Problem-based learning
- Study visits
- Placements and consultancy assignments
- Simulation

Assessment

Each module contains an element of building intellectual skills, with the dissertation and business projects being a critical assessment of skills related to synthesis and analysis. Assessment is undertaken by unseen written exam papers; practical assessments; case study analysis; projects; dissertation.

C. Practical skills - able to:

To be able to:

1. Work collaborative and effectively in a group : both as a team member and leader, clarifying tasks,

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Methods typically associated with learning transmission:

- Lectures and presentations: face to face or recognising and making best use of the capabilities and contributions of others, to gain maximum group performance, team selection, delegation, development and management, handling conflict with confidence, sensitivity to the value of diversity

2. Demonstrate self-awareness and evaluation: is an independent and self-critical learner, aware of their impact on others and is reflective on own and others' functioning in order to improve practice and continuing professional development

3. Learning: is able to use the full range of learning resources and learns through reflection on practice and experience in both face-to-face and virtual learning contexts

4. Mastery in managerial communication: listening, negotiating and persuading or influencing others; oral and written communication, using a range of media, including the preparation of business reports, in academic and professional environments with a range of specialists and people at different levels of the organisations.

online with digital support materials

- Self-study: directed and self-directed, online using web-based resources or with CD-ROM or paper-based materials.

Methods associated with transactional or transformational approaches to learning:

- Research.
- Collaborative learning .
- Case studies .
- Problem-based learning .
- Study visits .
- Placements and consultancy assignments .
- Simulation .

Over the course of the programme, face-to-face learning events directed at practical skills will use a mix of the following active learning techniques:

- Socialisation processes.
- Team-based and individual problem solving.
- Case study analyses .
- The use of creative arts (on-line and video media, visual arts) to explore business problems .
- Inquiry & problem-based learning .
- Guest speakers .
- Debates.
- Simulation and role-play activities .
- Company visits .
- Panel discussions .
- Conferences .
- Personal reflection and coaching conversations.

Assessment

Each module contains an element of building practical skills, and in particular the personal development module focuses on a variety of such skills. Assessment is undertaken by unseen written exam papers; practical assessments; case study analysis; projects; dissertation; reflective assignments.

D. Transferable skills - able to:

Teaching/learning methods and strategies

Assessment

Please note - This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of each module can be found in the module description and in the programme handbook. The University reserves the right to modify this specification in unforeseen circumstances, or where the process of academic development and feedback from students, quality assurance process or external sources, such as professional bodies, requires a change to be made. In such circumstances, a revised specification will be issued.