Accreditation	Not applicable
Programme Start Dates	September

Programme information and content

The course aims to prepare students for subsequent PhD studies or for pursuing a research career in industry or academia by providing them with:

- Practical experience of the most important laboratory techniques used in neuroscience research and an understanding of experimental design and statistical analysis;
- Critical appraisal skills for understanding topics at the cutting edge of modern neuroscience research; and
- The ability to plan, manage and conduct an in-depth lab based research project

Module information

The programme comprises of 180 credits, allocated across two compulsory modules. The compulsory modules are listed below.

Compulsory Modules:

Module	Name	Credits	Level
PMMR1	Research Methods and Advanced Topics	30	7
PMMRP	Research Project in Advanced Topics	150	7

Part-time or flexible modular arrangements

Due to the intensive nature of the research project it is not anticipated that part-time or modular arrangements will be offered for this programme.

Additional costs of the programme

Printing and photocopying facilities are available on campus at a cost of £0.05 per page.

Costs are indicative and may vary according to optional modules chosen and are subject to inflation and other price fluctuations.

The estimates were calculated in 2018.

Placement opportunities

With the agreement of their dissertation supervisor, students may be allowed to study abroad in a collaborators lab or to learn a new research technique as part of their project work.

Teaching and learning delivery:

Teaching is organised in modules. The delivery of materials takes a variety of forms including lectures, practical classes, seminars and small group discussions.

Total study hours for your programme will be 1800 hours. The contact hours for your programme will depend upon your module combination; an average for a typical set of modules on this programme is – 85 hours. In addition to your scheduled contact hours, you will be expected to undertake guided independent study and project work. Information about module contact hours and the amount of independent study which a student is normally expected to undertake for a module is indicated in the relevant module description.
