Additional costs of the programme

There are no textbooks which you must buy and students are encouraged to discuss the purchase of textbooks or other resources with the module convenor before purchasing. Some books may be available second-hand, which will reduce costs. A range of resources to support your curriculum, including textbooks, electronic resources and computer facilities, are available through the library and through the Department of Philosophy.

Printing and photocopying facilities are available on campus at a cost per A4 page of £0.05 (black and white) and £0.30 (colour). Essential costs in this area will be low as most coursework is submitted electronically.

Costs are indicative and may vary according to optional modules chosen and are subject to inflation and other price fluctuations.

The estimates were calculated in 2018.

Optional modules:

For programmes that include credits allocated to optional modules, the optional modules available can vary from year to year. An indicative list of the range of optional modules for your Programme is set out in the Further Programme Information. Details of any additional costs associated with the optional modules, will be made available to you prior to the beginning of the programme. Entry to optional modules will be at the discretion of the University and subject to availability. Although the University tries to ensure you are able to take the optional modules in which you have expressed interest this cannot be guaranteed.

Placement opportunities

Not applicable.

Teaching and learning delivery:

Teaching is primarily by means of individually supervised essays and supervised dissertation, supplemented by classes according to student interest and staff research activity.

Total study hours for your programme will be 1800 hours. The contact hours for your programme will depend upon your voluntary attendance of additional classes, seminars, and talks. They would be likely to amount to 6-10 hrs/week. In addition to your scheduled contact hours, you will be expected to undertake guided independent study.

Information about module contact hours and the amount of independent study which a student is normally expected to undertake for a module is indicated in the relevant module description.

Accreditation details

Not applicable.

Assessment

Assessment is by written work (3 essays and a dissertation) and an assessed seminar presentation.
