Programme information and content

The central aim of the programme is to develop students' critical, practical and historical understanding of modern theatre as a cultural form. Students will become familiar with the varied achievements of theatre practitioners, developing critical skills through close study of plays and theatre performances, underpinned by debates and theories which have influenced the analysis of theatre and performance. Students also undertake practical work, closely informed by critical issues ('critical practice'), which is designed both to extend understanding of how theatre creates meaning, and to develop appropriate practical expertise. Students can also select optional modules which allow them to situate their study of theatre in relation to film or television forms and practices, permitting the exploration of how key concepts such as performance and genre are inflected across different mediums.

Part 1:	Introduces you to the academic study of theatre and performance culture across a range of approaches and practices, instilling foundational terminology and key disciplinary debates. Students engage with their discipline both theoretically/critically and practically, learning the scholarly protocol of formal essay-writing and receiving an induction in the safe and appropriate use of facilities and equipment.
Part 2:	Provides you with an understanding of theatre and performance culture through the discovery and investigation of particular issues explored via in-depth discussions across lectures, seminars and workshops. Students also begin their process of specialization in theatre practice, leading to an increasingly confident use of specialist theatre-making facilities and equipment. Part 2 also offers opportunities for study abroad and work-based learning.
Part 3:	Gives you the opportunity to gain specialist knowledge in Options closely informed by staff research and advanced practical expertise through the pursuit of sustained and focused theatre-making practice with an emphasis of independent research and enquiry.

Additional costs of the programme

During your programme of study you will incur some additional costs.

You will incur costs for theatre, cinema and/or gallery trips linked to Department modules and module assessments. These visits are an essential and very enjoyable part of your studies. We recommend that you budget between £60 to £100 for this per year. We secure discounted tickets in good seats through group booking, and travel costs can be significantly reduced by booking well in advance, travelling off-peak, and using Group Travel discounts and a 16-25 rail card. To help reduce costs, we also include visits to venues in Reading and Oxford as well as London where appropriate, and we invite practitioners to the department to perform/exhibit work and hold workshops and master classes for our students.

You are not required to purchase any practical equipment, as the Department provides the necessary equipment and facilities. If you require specialist materials for practical work, a technician will source this for you, following consultation with the relevant academic member of staff.

You will incur costs for the purchase of some textbooks. We recommend that you budget between £70 to £100 for this per year. Some books may be available second-hand, which will reduce costs. A range of resources to support your curriculum, including textbooks and electronic resources, are available through the library and through the Department of Film, Theatre & Television. Printing and photocopying facilities are available on campus at a cost of £0.05 per page. Costs will be, on average, £20 per year.

If you partake in Study Abroad you should expect to pay for services which you would normally expect to pay for at Reading e.g. housing, food, travel, social activities, etc. Additional costs will vary depending on the host institution and location. Please see the Erasmus and Study Abroad website for further details.

Costs are indicative and may vary according to optional modules chosen and are subject to inflation and other price fluctuations.

The estimates were calculated in 2018.

Placement opportunities

Placements:

You may be provided with the opportunity to undertake a credit-bearing placement as part of your Programme. This will form all or part of an optional module. You will be required to find and secure a placement opportunity, with the support of the University.

Study Abroad:

You may be provided with the opportunity to undertake a Study Abroad placement during your Programme. This is subject to you meeting academic conditions detailed in the Programme Handbook, including obtaining the relevant permissions from your School, and the availability of a suitable Study Abroad placement. If you undertake a Study Abroad placement, further arrangements will be discussed and agreed with you.

Teaching and learning delivery:

You will be taught through lectures, seminars, supervision tutorials and, depending on your specialization and module choices, practical workshops and tutorials using our specialist equipment and facilities.

Total study hours for each Part of your programme will be 1200 hours. The contact hours for your programme will depend upon your module combination; an average for a typical set of modules on this programme is Part 1 - 492 hours, Part 2 - 396 hours, Part 3 - 324 hours. In addition to your scheduled contact hours, you will be expected to undertake guided independent study. Information about module contact hours and the amount of independent study which a student is normally expected to undertake for a module is indicated in the relevant module description.

Assessment

The programme will be predominantly assessed through coursework, as well as written examinations. Depending on your module choices and specialization, coursework may include essays and other forms of writing (such as blogs), practical work accompanied by documentation, videographic criticism, and presentations which may be accompanied by reflective reports.

In order to progress from Part 1 to Part 2, a student must achieve a threshold performance; and

(iii) obtain a mark of at least 40% in 40 credits of compulsory modules at Part 1 (FT11TH, FT1P1M, FT1P2T, FT1P3T).

The achievement of a threshold performance at Part 1 qualifies a student for a Certificate of Higher Education if they leave the University before completing the subsequent Part.

To gain a threshold performance at Part 2, a student shall normally be required to:

- (i) obtain a weighted average of 40% over 120 credits taken at Part 2; and
- (ii) obtain marks of at least 40% in individual modules amounting to at least 80 credits; and
