Programme information and content

The programme aims to provide you with a broad-based curriculum that leads to an in-depth understanding of both sub-fields. By the end of the programme, successful candidates will have acquired a detailed knowledge in both areas, and will appreciate the interactions between them. Parts 1 and 2 include only compulsory modules that build critical knowledge and key skills in economics and finance, while a broad range of optional modules in the final year allow the student to focus on specific areas of interest.

Part 1:	Introduces you to the basic underpinnings of economics, finance, financial markets, and quantitative techniques.
Part 2:	Provides you with the opportunity to further develop the core strands of economics and finance.
Placement/Study abroad year:	A placement year provides the opportunity to obtain practical experience and apply academic knowledge. It also helps provide focus in the final year of academic study. Students gain transferable skills demanded by graduate employers and on return to university are better informed about future career paths. A year abroad provides the opportunity for students to broaden both their academic and cultural awareness. As a year abroad does not contribute to the final degree classification, although students are required to take some economics modules, the opportunity exists to study a wider range of topics.
Part 3:	Gives you the opportunity to deepen the theoretical and practical knowledge and skills of the core strands and allow students to apply what they have learnt to a topic of their choosing.

Details of optional modules for each part, including any Additional Costs associated with the optional modules, will be made available to you prior to the beginning of the Part in which they are to be taken and you will be given an opportunity to express interest in the optional modules that you would like to take. Entry to optional modules will be at the discretion of the University and subject to availability and may be subject to pre-requisites, such as completion of another module. Although the University tries to ensure you are able to take the optional modules in which you have expressed interest this cannot be guaranteed.

Additional costs of the programme

During your programme of study you will incur some additional costs.

For textbooks and similar learning resources, we recommend that you budget up to £400 per year. This figure is approximate. Actual costs will vary depending on individual study technique, preferences, and requirements. Some books may be available second-hand, which will reduce costs. A range of resources to support your curriculum, including textbooks and electronic resources, are available through the library. Reading lists and module specific costs are listed on the individual module descriptions.

Printing and photocopying facilities are available on campus at a cost of £0.05 per page.

Costs are indicative and may vary according to optional modules chosen and are subject to inflation and other price fluctuations.

The estimates were calculated in 2019.

Study Abroad:

You may be provided with the opportunity to undertake a Study Abroad placement during your Programme.
