Programme information and content

The aim is to equip well-qualified graduates with the professional skills necessary to become committed, effective, reflective newly qualified teachers who can respond flexibly to changing circumstances, maintain and enhance educational standards in primary schools and continue to develop their knowledge, skills and understanding throughout their professional lives.

The programme will furnish candidates with the knowledge, skills and understanding to plan, deliver and evaluate lessons that meet Early Years Foundation Stage guidance, the National Curriculum and assessment requirements, monitor pupils' achievements and understand how to help each individual child reach their potential.

Module information

The programme comprises of 180 credits, allocated across a range of compulsory and optional modules. Compulsory modules are listed.

Teaching and learning delivery

University based teaching includes lectures, tutor and student led seminars and workshops and feedback on individual and group research and presentation. Teaching in Partnership schools includes observations and feedback, in-service sessions and working collaboratively.

Total study hours for your programme will be 1800 hours. The contact hours for your programme will depend upon your module combination; an average for a typical set of modules on this programme is – 1800 hours. In addition to your scheduled contact hours, you will be expected to undertake guided independent study. Information about module contact hours and the amount of independent study which a student is normally expected to undertake for a module is indicated in the relevant module description.

Accreditation details

The Department for Education awards the QTS part of the qualification following recommendation from the university. The PGCE (with QTS/non-QTS), PGCE (Reflective Practice) and ProfCert are awarded by the University of Reading.

Assessment

Assessment of University based assessment tasks will involve meeting the stated criteria for each task. Assessment of school-based work will include feedback on practical teaching and assessment against the Teachers' Standards.

Progression

Students are required to pass both (spring and summer placements) in order to pass the programme. Students failing the spring placement module will not progress to the summer placement module; instead they will resit during the next placement opportunity and normally undertake their summer placement module during the Autumn term in the next academic year. Students failing the summer placement module will resit during the next placement opportunity, normally during the Autumn term in the next academic year, unless failure in other modules will preclude the achievement of any further award.

Students failing the Autumn placement module will normally be required to suspend the programme until the following Autumn

Students are required to present evidence at the level expected of a trainee at that point in the training programme in both the Spring and Summer placement modules in order to pass the programme (unless there are exceptional or extenuating circumstances). To enable students to gain evidence towards the Teachers' Standards for the end of the programme they will be offered appropriate experiences, normally the opportunity to assume the role of the class teacher for percentage of the timetable for a defined period (as specified in the relevant placement handbooks). Should concerns be raised from the school or the University around children's academic progress or wellbeing, as a consequence of the student's timetabled teaching, then the student's timetable will be reconsidered and additional support will be put in place, normally a reduction in the percentage of required teaching. In this case, it is unlikely that the student will be able to gain the evidence required to pass the placement, unless they are able to show improvement and assume full requirements.
