Programme information and content

Successful completion of this two year Masters programme enables students to apply for registration with the Health Care Professions Council to work as a speech and language therapist on graduation. Students will study core subjects, including linguistics, medical studies and psychology, and the evidence-base for the assessment, diagnosis and management of disorders of speech, language, communication and swallowing in children and adults. Academic study is integrated with professional studies and clinical practice throughout the programme.

Students study (1) core subjects of linguistics, medicine and psychology and how these subjects contribute to an understanding of normal and non-normal speech and language and (2) basic and specialised topics of language pathology. In addition, students develop professional and therapeutic skills through tutorials, workshops and supervised clinical practice.

Academic study is integrated with professional studies and clinical practice throughout the programme enabling students to demonstrate independent clinical practice achieved by: ability to solve clinical problems, use of flexible and critically reflective practise; independent practise within multidisciplinary teams and organisations; and independent management of a clients' clinical need in a safe, holistic and culturally sensitive manner in compliance with values of the School, NHS and HCPC standards of conduct, performance and ethics; evidence professional skills in written and verbal communication; critically evaluate evidence-based management of clients with speech, language, communication and swallowing disorders across the lifespan; and apply knowledge and understanding to initiate and carry out research projects which can contribute to the evidence-base

Thus the graduate will achieve the competencies required to satisfy the requirements of the Royal College of Speech and Language Therapists and provide eligibility to apply for registration with the Health Professions Council.

Part-time or flexible modular arrangementsAdditional costs of the programme

During the programme of study students will incur some additional costs. For textbooks and similar learning resources, we recommend that you budget between £100 to £200 a year. Some books may be available second-hand, which will reduce costs. A range of resources to support the curriculum, including textbooks and electronic resources, are available through the library. Reading lists and module specific costs are listed on the individual module descriptions.

Printing and photocopying facilities are available on campus at a cost of £0.05 per page.

Students need to travel to external clinical placements that are offered across a wide geographical area. While some placements will be local to the University, others will require travel by public transport or car which will involve additional cost depending on the distance and mode of travel.

There will be some funding attached to this from Health Education England. Amounts and allowances will vary.

Costs are indicative and may vary according to optional modules chosen and are subject to inflation and other price fluctuations.

The estimates were calculated in 2022.

Optional modules

The optional modules available can vary from year to year. An indicative list of the range of optional modules for your Programme is set out in the Further Programme Information. Details of any additional costs associated with the optional modules, will be made available to you prior to the beginning of the programme. Entry to optional modules will be at the discretion of the University and subject to availability. Although the University tries to ensure you are able to take the optional modules in which you have expressed interest this cannot be guaranteed.

Placement opportunities

In all years students will be expected to attend external clinical placements. The clinical placements occur during term-time and normally on a weekly basis, but there are some short block placements within term time. There is a block placement of 4 weeks in the summer vacation between the first and second year and one in Easter vacation/spring term of the second year. There may be some funding for travel and accommodation for placements from Health Education England. Amounts and allowances will vary.

Teaching and learning delivery

Modules are taught by lectures, seminars, tutorials and workshops. The dissertation module is supported by individual supervision and there is individual supervision in clinical placements. This supervision is provided by qualified speech and language therapists and provides students with an interactive learning experience. Clinical placements are provided both on and off campus. Students start clinical practice observing clinical sessions within the School's speech and language therapy clinic. These are supported by tutorials. During the second year, students take increasing amount of responsibility for their own caseloads.

DBS requirements and Health and professional requirements

In order to undertake clinical placements, students will be required to have an enhanced criminal records check with the Disclosure and Barring Service as part of the admissions process. Students are also required to disclose any relevant criminal convictions accrued after student start the programme.

Students must complete a health questionnaire to demonstrate fitness for the programme and also produce evidence of having appropriate vaccinations to complete clinical placements.

Students are required to inform the School of Psychology and Clinical Language Sciences of any change in circumstances that may affect their ability, or suitability, to continue their studies. Students are also expected to maintain behaviours associated with a healthcare professional and must abide by University regulations, the University Fitness to Practice Policy and the Health Care Professions Council Standards for Conduct, Ethics and Performance and Student Code of Conduct. Deviation from these standards may lead to the instigation of University Academic Misconduct and/or Fitness to Practice processes.

The contact hours for your programme will depend upon your module combination; an average for a typical set of modules on this programme is – 500 hours. In addition you will attend 450+ hours of clinical practice. In addition to your scheduled contact hours, you will be expected to undertake guided independent study. Information about module contact hours and the amount of independent study which a student is normally expected to undertake for a module is indicated in the relevant module description.
