Programme information and content

The focus of your degree programme in Classics will be the acquisition of proficiency in both Ancient Greek and Latin. You can start at any level from beginner's onwards. To enrich your appreciation of the ancient languages and the literatures written in them, you will benefit from a wide range of modules about the ancient world and beyond. We teach a broad and inclusive version of the ancient world, using and evaluating many diverse forms of evidence. Our guiding principle is that the ancient world should be accessible to all, and everyone can benefit from and enjoy studying it. The capacities and interests that we foster will thus enable our graduates to act as engaged citizens of the multicultural modern world, open to new arguments and able to adjust their perspectives in line with the evidence. The skills gained in the course of our stimulating degree programme – including communication, presentation, research, and data management skills – are valued by a wide range of employers. You will expand the range, depth and sophistication of your knowledge of Ancient Greek, Latin, and ancient history and/or culture through the structured progression of Parts 1, 2, and 3 of the programme.

Besides studying both Ancient Greek and Latin at the appropriate level for you each academic year, your other choices will provide you with the following:

Part 1:	Part 1 introduces you to the study of Greek and Roman civilizations with a particular emphasis on the critical engagement with primary sources, alongside the development of writing skills to explore specific literary, historical and cultural topics.
Part 2:	Part 2 enables you to develop your knowledge of the ancient world by studying a wide range of literary forms and their reception and/or a range of different periods from ancient history, from ancient Egypt to Late Antiquity, according to your module choices. A careers-focused module will encourage you to reflect on the transferable skills you are gaining through your degree and guide you towards the best ways to present these to prospective employers.

Placement/Study abroad year:	The four year variants of the programme (BA Classics with Study Year Abroad or Professional Placement) offer you an outstanding opportunity to develop your experiences and transferable skills, either through study in a different academic setting (Study Year Abroad) or through a Professional Placement. The programme also offers shorter placement and study abroad opportunities.
Part 3:	Part 3 gives you the opportunity to approach topics in greater depth through the provision of optional modules and the opportunity to research a topic in depth for a dissertation or an independent project.

Programme Learning Outcomes - BA Classics

During the course of the Programme, you will have the opportunity to develop a range of skills, knowledge and attributes (known as learning outcomes) For this programme, these are:

Learning outcomes
1	Translate original texts in Ancient Greek and Latin into English with accuracy and sensitivity.
2	Analyse the components of original texts in Ancient Greek and Latin and assess their grammatical and stylistic properties.
3	Demonstrate acquaintance with a diverse set of primary sources and scholarship.
4	Identify suitable sources of information in primary materials and in scholarship.
5	Analyse and synthesise complex data sets and make connections between different types of evidence.
6	Understand and evaluate different arguments, using independent thinking to arrive at evidence-based conclusions.
7	Communicate effectively in writing and in other media.
8	Reflect on your own work and development.
9	Demonstrate awareness of the social, cultural and political context of ancient historical interpretation and practice.
10	Acknowledge contemporary debates around inequality, sustainability, globalisation, cultural diversity, decolonisation and anti-racism.
11	Demonstrate a wide range of skills relating to employability in the wider world of work; these include teamworking, problem solving, communication, independent working and digital literacy.

You will be expected to engage in learning activities to achieve these Programme learning outcomes. Assessment of your modules will reflect these learning outcomes and test how far you have met the requirements for your degree.

To pass the Programme, you will be required to meet the progression or accreditation and award criteria set out below.

Module information

Each part comprises 120 credits, allocated across a range of compulsory and optional modules as shown below. Compulsory modules are listed.

Part 1 Modules:

Module	Name	Credits	Level
CL1GH	Greek History: war, society, and change in the Archaic Age	20	4
CL1TR	Texts, Readers, and Writers	20	4

Students must take one 20 credit module in Latin language and one 20 credit module in Ancient Greek language at the appropriate level.

Remaining credits will be made up of optional modules available in the Department of Classics and modules from an approved list.

Part 2 Modules:

Students must choose one 20 credit employability module from a list provided by the Department.

Students must take one 20 credit module in Latin language and one 20 credit module in Ancient Greek language at the appropriate level. Language modules may not be repeated at the same level in a subsequent Part.

Students must take a minimum of 40 credits of optional modules available in the Department of Classics, with the remaining credits made up of specified modules outside the department and up to 20 credits of modules from an approved list.

Modules during a placement year or study year (if applicable):

Students on one of the 4-year programmes will take one 120 credit module: Professional Placement Year (CL2PPY) or Study Abroad Year (CL2SAY).

Students may be permitted to undertake a placement year or a study abroad year between Part 2 and Part 3 of the programme. In such cases students will transfer to a 4-year programme. The placement or study abroad year should not normally be shorter than nine months full-time.

If you take a year-long placement or study abroad, Part 3 as described below may be subject to variation.

Part 3 Modules:

Students must select 40 credits in either a Dissertation or an Independent Project module.

Students must take a 20 credit module in Latin language and a 20 credit module in Ancient Greek language.

Remaining credits will be made up of optional modules available in the Department of Classics.

Up to 20 credits may be selected from modules from an approved list.

Placement opportunities

Placements:

You may be provided with the opportunity to undertake a credit-bearing placement as part of your Programme. This will form all or part of an optional module. You will be required to find and secure a placement opportunity, with the support of the University.

Study Abroad:

You may be provided with the opportunity to undertake a Study Abroad placement during your Programme. This is subject to you meeting academic conditions detailed in the Programme Handbook, including obtaining the relevant permissions from your School, and the availability of a suitable Study Abroad placement. If you undertake a Study Abroad placement, further arrangements will be discussed and agreed with you.

Optional modules:

The optional modules available can vary from year to year. An indicative list of the range of optional modules for your programme can be found online in the Course Catalogue. Details of optional modules for each part, including any additional costs associated with the optional modules, will be made available to you prior to the beginning of the Part in which they are to be taken and you will be given an opportunity to express interest in the optional modules that you would like to take. Entry to optional modules will be at the discretion of the University and subject to availability and may be subject to pre-requisites, such as completion of another module. Although the University tries to ensure you are able to take the optional modules in which you have expressed interest this cannot be guaranteed.

Teaching and learning delivery:

Ancient Greek and Latin are taught in small groups, with plenty of interaction between students and lecturer. You will have 60-80 hours of class time for each language in each academic year.

Your other modules will be taught through a mixture of lectures and seminars in Parts 1 and 2, with a greater emphasis on seminars in Part 3. The dissertation or independent project in Part 3 comprises a piece of work based on supervised independent study. Throughout the programme, you should treat the feedback you get for oral and written work as an important learning resource, and you are strongly encouraged to discuss your feedback with staff.

The total study hours for each Part of your programme will be 1200 hours. The contact hours for your programme will depend upon your module combination; an average for a typical set of modules on this programme is Part 1 - 258 hours, Part 2 - 200 hours, Part 3 - 190 hours.

Elements of your programme will be delivered via digital technology.

The scheduled teaching and learning activity hours and amount of technology enhanced learning activity for your programme will depend upon your module combination. In addition, you will undertake some self-scheduled teaching and learning activities, designed by and/or involving staff, which give some flexibility for you to choose when to complete them. You will also be expected to undertake guided independent study. Information about module study hours including contact hours and the amount of independent study which a student is normally expected to undertake for a module is indicated in the relevant module description.

Assessment

Progression

Part 1

To achieve a threshold performance at Part 1, a student will normally be required to:

- (i) Obtain an overall average of 40% over 120 credits taken in Part 1;
- (ii) Obtain a mark of at least 40% in individual modules amounting to not less than 80 credits taken in Part 1; and
- (iii) Obtain marks of at least 30% in modules amounting to 120 credits.

In order to progress from Part 1 to Part 2, a student must achieve a threshold performance; and

- iv) Obtain a mark of at least 40% over modules in Latin and Ancient Greek (CL*L* and CL*G*).

The achievement of a threshold performance at Part 1 qualifies a student for a Certificate of Higher Education if they leave the University before completing the subsequent Part.

Transferring from a Joint Honours to a Single Honours programme

Students are able to transfer from a Joint Honours to a Single Honours programme in one of their joint subject areas at the end of Part 1, subject to fulfilling the Part 1 University Threshold Standard, achieving marks of at least 40% in at least 40 credits of modules in the subject to which they wish to transfer, and fulfilling any programme-specific progression rules for the Part 1 Single Honours Programme to which they wish to transfer.

Students who transfer from a Joint Honours to a Single Honours programme may not have taken all of the Part 1 modules listed in the Single Honours Programme Specification. The modules which they have taken will be shown on their Diploma Supplement.

Part 2

To achieve a threshold performance at Part 2, a student shall normally be required to:

- (i) Obtain a weighted average of 40% over 120 credits taken in Part 2; and
- (ii) Obtain marks of at least 40% in individual modules amounting to at least 80 credits taken in Part 2; and
- (iii) Obtain marks of at least 30% in individual modules amounting to at least 120 credits, except that a mark below 30% may be condoned in no more than 20 credits of modules owned by the Department of Mathematics and Statistics.

In order to progress from Part 2 to Part 3, a student must achieve a threshold performance;

The achievement of a threshold performance at Part 2 qualifies a student for a Diploma of Higher Education if they leave the University before completing the subsequent Part.

Professional/placement year

Students are required to pass the professional placement year/study abroad year in order to progress on the programme which incorporates the professional placement year/study abroad year. Students who fail the professional placement year/study abroad year transfer to the non-placement year version of the programme.

Classification

Bachelors' degrees

The University's honours classification scheme is based on the following:

Mark Interpretation

70% - 100% First class

60% - 69% Upper Second class

50% - 59% Lower Second class

40% - 49% Third class

35% - 39% Below Honours Standard

0% - 34% Fail

The weighting of the Parts/Years in the calculation of the degree classification is:

Three year programmes:

Part 2: one-third

Part 3: two-thirds

Four year programmes, including professional placement/study abroad

Part 2: one-third

Professional placement/Study abroad: not included in the classification

Part 3: two-thirds

The classification method is given in detail in Section 17 of the Assessment Handbook.

Additional costs of the programme

Some modules use textbooks that are recommended for purchase; the estimated cost is £150 across the programme.

Optional modules may include visits to museums and field trips, including abroad. Travel and/or accommodation costs may range from £20 for a day trip to London to £600 for a week abroad.

Placements may require students to cover the cost of their travel. Study abroad may require additional costs for tuition, travel, and accommodation.

Costs are indicative and may vary according to optional modules chosen and are subject to inflation and other price fluctuations. Estimates were calculated in 2023.
